Casualties of Mikado's Force 300 and Russian Believed Greater.

BATTLE IS IMMINENT

Kuropatkin May Have Reached Fung-Wang-Cheng With Large Reinforcements.

REPORTS TO GOVERNMENTS

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

LONDON, May 4.—The Chefoo correspondent of the Daily Chronicle cables the following under yesterday's date: "The Japanese landed troops and attacked and captured Niuchwang last evening, the Russians falling back to protect the railway."

[Special Cable to The Gazette.]

Chefoo, May 3.—That a great battle is imminent at Fung-Wang-Cheng is not doubted here. The force under Gen. Zassalitch, which was defeated at the Yalu, has arrived at the second base, in a pretty well demoralized condition. There was constant fighting from Kiu-Lien-Cheng to Fung-Wang-Cheng and at Kau-Li-Men, where the Pekin road crosses the wall of Palisades, the Russian rear guard made a determined stand and tried to check the pursuing Japanese. The engagement was sharp and bloody. The Japanese advance guard was quickly reinforced and the Russians were driven from strong positions. The Japanese loss was about 300 killed and wounded, while the Russians are said to have suffered even more heavily.

Kuroki to Soon Attack.

Gen. Kuroki will, it is said, make an attack on Fung-Wang-Cheng as soon as the columns which should now be at Kiran Tien and Sin Yen have come in touch with him. According to latest advices received here Gen. Kuropatkin should now be at Fung-Wang-Cheng. The Russian forces there number something like 5,000 men of all arms and they are strongly entrenched. It was reported that he had started there with 20,000 men. The feeling is growing here that the Russians mean to fight hard to maintain their position at this point, for with Fung-Wang-Cheng in the hands of the Japanese they will be able to dominate all of southern Manchuria, cutting off Port Arthur and isolating all the garrisons south of Hai Cheng.

TOKYO, May 3.—A report was received here today from Gen. Kuroki. It is dated today and says:

"Yesterday the enemy offered a stubborn resistance against our pursuit, adding about 300 to our casualties. The enemy stood with resolution until their artillery, consisting of two batteries, lost the majority of its men and horses. They then broke the breeches and closing apparatus of their guns and hoisted the white flag.

Russian Officers Killed.

"According to a captured Russian officer, Maj. Gen. Kashtalinsky, commander of the Third East Siberian rifle brigade, the colonels of the Eleventh and Twelfth rifle regiments, and the commander of the Rifle Artillery battalion were killed in the fighting at Hamatan.

"It seems that the enemy was entirely routed by out attack, because since yesterday many have come in and surrendered. Our prisoners include 30 officers, 20 of whom are wounded, and 300 men, 100 of whom are wounded.

"A preliminary report from the chief surgeon of the first Japanese army shows that we had 798 men killed and wounded. These casualties are divided as follows: The Imperial guards, 132; Second division, 350; Third division, 315."

ST. PETERSBURG, May 3.—In a report received by the emperor from Gen. Kuropatkin under today's date, it is stated that at least from 3,000 to 4,000 Japanese were killed in the Yalu river fight. He further reports:

"Gen. Zassalitch's report dated today on the fight of May 1 says that the battle was fought under the following circumstances:

"The Twelfth and Twenty-second regiments and the Second and Third batteries of the Sixth brigade of artillery were engaged in the battle which began with heavy cannonading of our right flank by siege guns at Wiju and field batteries in the distance.

Fighting Resumed After Lull.

"After a lull the fighting was resumed with extraordinary violence against the left flank of our main position at Turenchen and our position at Potientinsky. A fusilade was also begun by small parties of Japanese across the Ai river. The situation of the defenders' position became increasingly difficult, especially at Potientinsky, which was bombarded on the front and on both flanks. Thirty Japanese guns were pitted against our battery at Potientinsky, which, after having silenced the enemy's mountain battery, directed its fire on the Japanese infantry and sustained few losses so long as it was not obliged to take up another position owing to the withdrawal of our infantry from the bank. The Japanese under our fire made continual bayonet attacks on our troops. Japanese bodies lay in heaps at the river front.

Simultaneously with the attack at Potientinsky an attack was being made on our left flank at Turenchen and the Russian trenches had to be abandoned under the Japanese enfilading fire. Our reserves several times mingled with the first line, thus enabling it for a long time to maintain its position.

Supports Brought Up.

"Finally all of the supports were brought up into the firing line, but owing to the great distance from our main reserves it was impossible for them to reach the advance force in time, and our men

RUSSIANS SINK 11 JAPANESE SHIPS

Torpedo Boats and Fire Vessels Lost Trying to Block Port Arthur.

BATTLE STILL CONTINUES

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

Port Arthur, May 3, (noon)—A Japanese squadron appeared off Port Arthur after daybreak today and engaged the forts and warships. The fight is still proceeding. Thirty Japanese prisoners have been captured.

At 1 o'clock this morning five Japanese torpedo boats were sighted and the Russian land batteries and the gunboat Giliak and the coast defence vessels Gremiashchi and Otvashni opened fire and compelled them to retire. Immediately afterward other Japanese ships were sighted on the horizon. They were headed by a fireship, which was sunk near the entrance of the harbor at 1:20 a. m. After an interval of 25 minutes two more fireships came on and were sent to the bottom.

At 2:20 a. m. four more fireships approached. Three of these blew up on our mines. Two of these sank immediately and the other two fireships were sunk by batteries and warships. Fifteen minutes later three more fireships arrived. One of them blew up on a mine, the second vessel was wrecked on the shore and the third was sunk by the Russian shells. The Japanese attack still continues.

The crews of the Japanese fireships tried to save themselves by boats in which they put out to sea. A majority of them were killed by the Russian machine guns and rifles. Some of the survivors were picked up. At daybreak a number of Japanese were seen clinging to the masts and funnels of the sunken vessels, and these were rescued by the Russians. Thirteen of the wounded Japanese have since died. The Russians supplied the survivors with food and clothing and the wounded were taken to the hospital ship Mongolia.

During the morning ten of the enemy's torpedo boats remained in the offing and were fired on at long range. At 9:30 o'clock it was signaled that there was a Japanese fleet in the vicinity and that two of the enemy's launches had been run ashore.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 3.—High Admiral Grand Duke Alexis has received the following official telegram from Viceroy Alexieff, reporting the Japanese attempt to block Port Arthur early this morning:

"I respectfully report to your highness that a fresh attack was made by the enemy last night with the object of obstructing the entrance to the port and that it was successfully repelled.

"At 1 o'clock this morning five torpedo boats were perceived near the coast from the eastern batteries. Under the fire of our warships and the batteries they retreated southward.

"At 1:45 o'clock the first fire ship, escorted by several torpedo boats, was sighted and we opened fire upon it from the batteries and the warships. Three quarters of an hour afterward our searchlights revealed a number of fire ships making for the entrance of the harbor from the east and southwest. The coast defense vessels Otvashni and Gremieschi and the gunboat Giliak repulsed them by a well directed fire.

"Altogether nine ships were sunk by our vigorous cannonade, by Whitehead torpedoes launched from our torpedo boats and by the explosion of several submarine mines. Further, according to the reports of the officers commanding the batteries and the gunboat Giliak, two Japanese torpedo boats were destroyed.

"Up to the present 30 men, including two mortally wounded officers who took refuge on a launch or were rescued from the fire ships by us, have been picked up. The inspection of the roadstead and the work of saving the enemy's men were hindered by the heavy sea running. We suffered no casualties with the exception of a seaman belonging to the torpedo boat destroyer Boevoi.

"On the appearance of the first fire ship, accompanied by the enemy's torpedo boats, I boarded a launch and proceeded to the Otvashni to take immediate measures for repulsing the fire ships. With me were Lieut.-Gen Zalinsky and Capt. Eberhardt of the naval general staff. Lieut.-Gen. Stoessel was on the fortifications at the same time, and Gen. Loschinsky, chief of the defense force of the forts, was on board the Giliak."

MOORE'S ORDERS COUNTERMANDED

Finds He Is Director of the Department of Public Safety in Name Only.

W. J. BOYLE TO BE REINSTATED

Harry Moore has discovered that he is director of the department of public safety in name only, and that his orders are countermanded by a higher authority. These facts were made plain to Moore yesterday when he received a report from Inspector Bernard McStay on gambling in the East End.

Inspector W. J. Boyle of the Second or East End police district was suspended last week for failing to carry out Director Moore's order to close the place of John Blackburn at 26 Frankstown avenue and gambling houses in the district. Boyle will be reinstated by the police trial board, probably today.

The Frankstown avenue house was closed last week. Prior to this some of Blackburn's friends asked Moore for permission to run a gaming establishment in the East End, but were refused. Regardless of Moore's opposition the place was opened. Boyle was called before the director and told to close the place, and Boyle started to carry out the order.

As Boyle was leaving the safety building a representative of a higher official than Director Moore told him not to disturb the Blackburn place. Recognizing the superior authority, Boyle permitted the Frankstown avenue house to operate. Director Moore heard the place was in operation and again ordered Inspector Boyle to close it. Boyle did so, but was suspended, pending an investigation, for not closing it as previously directed.

Inspector Bernard McStay of the First police district was ordered to investigate and reported in substance the above facts to the director yesterday. Director Moore will reinstate Inspector Boyle, probably this morning.

ANTI-JEWISH RIOTS IN AUSTRIAN TOWNS

Disappointment Over Russian Reverses Leads to Venting Spleen on Hebrews.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

LONDON, May 3.—A special dispatch from Vienna says it is reported there that there were serious anti-Jewish riots in Lemberg, Austria, Saturday last, in which five persons were killed and many were injured.

VIENNA, May 3.—Reports are current here that there were serious anti-Jewish riots in the Bessarabian town of Bender April 30.—It is stated that the rioting began Saturday forenoon while the congregations were in the synagogues.

The mob smashed the windows of houses in the Jewish quarter, entered the houses and threw women and children out of the winodws. A girl was murdered in a most revolting manner, the reports say. Cossacks were sent to restore order. The outbreak is said to have been due to the anger of the crowd over Russians reverses in the far east. These reports lack official confirmation.

CHICAGO FAMINE AVERTED BY PITTSBURGH BREAD

CHICAGO, May 3.—(Special.)—Thirty-five thousand loaves of bread were received in Chicago today from Pittsburgh to relieve the famine threatened by the strike of bakers. Milwaukee and St. Louis bakeries were appealed to for a portion of the city's requirements, but refused to respond. Now employes are being engaged here and the nine large baking plants affected by the strike are expected to provide the customary output within a few days.

Forty Election Fraud Indictments.

DENVER, May 3.—The grand jury returned 40 indictments against 26 persons, alleging election frauds today. Among the persons named are Julius Affhele, county clerk; Walter B. Lowry, supervisor; Charles W. Cockran, alderman; John D. Ross, alderman; Gus Kappa and John Kendrick, deputy constables; W. A. Dollison, candidate for alderman on the Republican ticket; John Hall, a ward worker, and William Altman, now deceased.

ADMIRAL SCHLEY GUEST OF HONOR

Third and Most Successful Banquet of the Crucible Club of Pittsburgh.

DISTINGUISHED MEN PRESENT

Rear Admiral Winfield Scott Schley was the guest of honor at the third banquet given by the one-year-old Crucible club in the Duquesne club house last evening. Other guests included the entire superior court of the state and a number of other distinguished men.

As at the other two dinners which have marked the club's history, the first attention was paid to local matters and the fight over railroad and electric franchises, as well as the recent court troubles, awakened the greatest amusement and interest. Moot trials, take-offs on local peculiarities and references to local pride only added to the strong local tendency of the gathering.

Arrangements for the dinner were remarkably complete. For one hour the members and guests were given an opportunity to meet and talk with the honor guests, and in the big lobby of the banquet hall floor of the Duquesne club, a concourse of distinguished Pittsburghers met last evening. In one group could be seen a man high in the military or naval service of the country, an educator of the first rank, a litterateur, an industrial magnate, a lawyer of prominence and a great banker. The wealth, the culture and the brains of the city mingled on even terms.

Battleship Brooklyn in Miniature.

Immediately upon the admittance of the guests and members to the big banquet hall a pleasant surprise was sprung upon them. At one end of the hall is a stage. Upon this had been erected a miniature of the great battleship Brooklyn, Admiral Schley's flagship. From a mast swung to the breeze the flag, and when the dinner had opened all arose and sang in unison the "Star Spangled Banner." A toast to Admiral Schley was proposed by James Francis Burke and drunk with hearty good will.

Then President Brashear, who was also toastmaster, introduced Justice W. D. Porter of the superior court, who spoke at some length. Senor Pulido, the Venezuelan representative to the United States, followed in an address that captivated the big audience of banqueters. Several more courses were served, and Admiral Schley himself was called upon. As the admiral arose a woman's voice from the behind a screen of palms sang "Maryland, My Maryland," with telling effect. When the music had died away Admiral Schley said:

Touched By His Reception.

"I would not be human if I were not touched by the generous reception that has been accorded me here today. I have attended many banquets, but none at which the committee has made more tasteful arrangements or has presented it more beautifully than this one. This dinner will always remain one of the prominent incidents of my life. The hospitality of Western Pennsylvania has become famous far beyond its borders. My native state is one that owes much to Pennsylvania, and I have long thought that had I not been born in Maryland, I should have gladly been born in Pennsylvania."

To his native city of Frederick, Md., he paid his highest compliment, recalling the many great men who have it as their place of nativity. He then spoke of the common sentiment among laymen that the men of the army and navy are looking for war, and denounced this opinion saying that the trained officer looks upon this as only the nauseous remedy. He spoke the last few words of his speech strongly in appreciation of the hospitality extended to him.

James Francis Burke arose and answered for the club. He closed his address with the words, "Let us wander back to childhood," and as if by magic, a woman's voice took up these words and a song of wonderful sweetness came from behind the palms. The song ended with a chorus of men's voices and the serious feature of the evening was at an end.

Initiation of New Members.

Mr. Burke refused to reappear, despite demands from every part of the room. He asked only that the new members ascend the stage. After a minute the curtain was drawn, while the tom-tom beat a funeral tune.

FRICK INFLUENCE IS STRENGTHENED

Phipps Succeeds Schwab on the Steel Corporation Finance Committee.

OFFICERS ARE RE-ELECTED

[The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau, Herald Building, Herald Square, NEW YORK, May 3.]

Henry Phipps, who was recently elected a director of the United States Steel Corporation to succeed John D. Rockefeller, was chosen today a member of the finance committee of the corporation in place of Charles M. Schwab. Mr. Phipps' election to the committee, which directs the affairs of the big steel corporation was considered today in Wall street to indicate a further strengthening of the influence which H. C. Frick, H. H. Rogers and N. A. Ream now possess in directing the company's management. G. W. Perkins of J. P. Morgan & Co., was re-elected chairman of the finance committee. The other members of the committee are E. A. B. Widener of Philadelphia, and Charles Steele of J. P. Morgan & Co.

The directors held the first meeting today since the annual meeting of the stockholders in Hoboken a few weeks ago. There were no changes in the list of officers. The various vice presidents were re-elected and President Corey and Chairman Gary were re-elected to their respective positions.

It was announced that F. H. Peabody of Boston had resigned, and his resignation was accepted. Robert Winsor of Kidder, Peabody & Co., took the place vacated by his partner, Mr. Peabody. No significance was attached to the resignation of Mr. Peabody, and one of the directors confirmed the general impression in Wall street, when he explained that Mr. Peabody was too old to attend the meetings of the board, and his partner accepted election to represent the interests which the big Boston banking firm have in the Steel Corporation.

The by-laws were amended, changing the date of the regular monthly meetings of the board. Instead of the first Tuesday in the month as heretofore, the monthly meetings will be held on the last Tuesday of each month. It is pointed out that this change will enable the board to make a complete statement of earnings for the quarter instead of an estimate of the last month's earnings. The dividend action will also be based on the actual returns instead of an estimated return.

BLAMES DEFEAT ON GENERAL'S OBSTINACY

China Refuses Gen. Ma's Request to Expel Russian Troops.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

PARIS, May 4.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Echo de Paris says that Gen. Kuropatkin in telegraphing to the emperor blames Lieut. Gen. Zassalitch's obstinacy in refusing to retreat in time, despite the orders he received.

A special dispatch from St. Petersburg asserts that Lieut. Gen. Zassalitch fell into an ambuscade owing to the Japanese interrupting a telegram from Gen. Kuropatkin.

The Standard's Shanghai correspondent says that the Pekin government has refused Gen. Ma's request to be permitted to expell the Russian troops from the west of the Liao river.

ATCHINESE DEFEATED.

Dutch Kill 190 Atchinese and Lose 43 Wounded Themselves in Fight at Tjantoe.

AMSTERDAM, May 3.—(Special.)—A dispatch to the Handelsblad from Batavia, Java, says that a Dutch column captured the Atchinese position at Tjantoe after a desperate fight in which 190 Atchinese were killed. The Dutch casualties were 7 men killed and 5 officers and 38 men wounded.

This is another of those encounters that have been taking place for 30 years between the administration of the Dutch East Indian colonies and the rebellious natives in northern Sumatra.

ORE ASSOCIATION GOES TO PIECES

Two Elements in Raw Iron Traffic Disagree on Curtailing Production.

SPLIT ON PRO RATA BASIS

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

Cleveland, May 3.—The Ore association has gone to pieces. There will be no agreement among the ore producers this year, either as to price or output. This decision was reached this afternoon by the association after a prolonged session. The result of the meeting was obtained in a dispatch sent by W. G. Mather, the president of the organization, to James Gayley, the first vice president of the United States Steel Corporation, at New York.

The decision reached is the climax of a prolonged struggle. The association held a meeting at New York about a week ago in which the whole subject was discussed. The consuming ore producers who consumed last year about four-sevenths of the output of the Lake Superior mines insisted that the volume of production be curtailed. They wanted the prices kept up to a basis of $4 a ton for Bessemer old range ores. At that time it was talked of putting Bessemer Mesaba ore on the $3.25 basis f. o. b. at Lake Erie ports, while non-Bessemer old range was to sell at $2.85 and non-Bessemer Mesaba at $2.65.

The merchant producers said that if any basis of prices was to be considered the producing consumers would have to stand their share of the reduction of output. It must be prorata among the members of the association whoever was hit. The consuming producers insisted that there should be a reduction in the output, but insisted upon producing as much ore as they would need for their own use, whether that amount was in excess of their allotted proportion of output or not. On this point the split came.

The producers of iron ore who sold their material in the market produced three-sevenths of the output last year. It was figured that the demands of the trade this year would indicate that there ought to be a reduction equal to 40 per cent of the output last year. The consuming producer wanted the merchant mines to stand that reduction in output and they refused to do so. This caused the disagreement at the meeting today and the adjournment of the Ore association sine die without an agreement.

IOWA LIKELY FOR HEARST.

Indications He Will Capture the Delegation in Democratic Convention Today.

DES MOINES, IA., May 3.—The indications tonight are that the Iowa Democrats will send a delegation to the St. Louis convention instructed for William Randolph Hearst for president.

This afternoon Chairman Jackson of the state central committee, who had been counted with the opposition, came out for Hearst, and defeated a plan of the "antis" to determine the regular delegations in the state central committee instead of in the credentials committee of the convention. The fight over the contested delegations will be fought in the convention, and even many of Hearst's opponents admit that he is strong enough in numbers to win. Chairman Jackson voted to give Charles A. Walsh, secretary of the National Democratic committee, a seat and vote in the state committee. Mr. Walsh is a Hearst manager.

HARMONY IN KENTUCKY.

Bradley and Yerkes Get Together in Republican State Convention.

LOUISVILLE, May 3.—The threatened contest between former Gov. W. O. Bradley and Commissioner of Internal Revenue John W. Yerkes for the control of the Republican convention and the state central committee, failed to materialize. Mr. Bradley moved that Mr. Yerkes, the temporary chairman, be unanimously declared permanent chairman. The motion was carried unanimously.

The platform adopted indorses the administration of President Roosevelt and commends him for the presidential nomination. Mr. Yerkes moved that Mr. Bradley be unanimously chosen as one of the four delegates-at-large to the national convention. The motion carried.

SAY THAT THEY DID NOT SIGN

More Owners of Property in Hump District Have Not Surrendered.

YODER AMONG THEM

Bakewell Building and Hitchcock Estate on the Same List. Councils Demand Waivers.

MAY BE TWO BOND ISSUES

Investigation yesterday developed the fact that a number of property owners in the hump district have not waived their right to claim damages. All of them are down on the chart issued by Director E. M. Bigelow as agreeing to waive. The correct total of property waived is now 12,528.65 feet as against 17,677.94 feet not waived.

At the meeting of select council Monday, Bigelow will be asked to produce the waivers which he claims to possess. So far no member of council has been allowed to secure this information. The legislators believe that they are entitled to know the real conditions.

The Hitchcock estate owns the property at Fifth avenue and Smithfield street on which a part of the Kaufmann store stands. The property has a frontage of 120 feet in Fifth avenue. Bigelow has marked this plot as being in the waived class. Marcus A. Woodward is one of the trustees of the estate. When asked yesterday if the trustees had signed a waiver he replied:

"No. I sent a letter to Mr. Bigelow saying that we would insist upon being paid all the damages accruing to us by the removal of the hump."

Yoder Did Not Sign.

"Did you sign?" T. Yoder was asked.

"I did not," he answered, "and no damage waiver will be signed. Some years ago I signed for a cut of 11 feet, but this cut (18 feet) was not contemplated."

The Yoder building, at Fifth and Wylie avenues, is on a rock foundation, and to bring the building down to the level of the new grade blasting is necessary, so that the building would have to be torn down.

Mr. Bigelow says that Gilbert T. Rafferty signed a damage waiver for the Bakewell law building, which he owns. Mr. Rafferty is in Europe.

"It is possible, but hardly likely, that Mr. Bigelow has located Mr. Rafferty in Europe and secured his assent to waive damages," said T. J. Lawton of T. J. Lawton & Co., who attends to Mr. Rafferty's real estate interests. "But before Mr. Rafferty left in January he told me that he had not signed a waiver and did not intend to sign. The Bakewell building is the best structure in this district built without reference to the new grade that would be made by cutting down the hump. It is a revenue producer and there is no reason why Mr. Rafferty should waive damages."

The directors of the Second ward school at Diamond and Ross street have not waived damages, but it is said that a majority called on Bigelow last week and told him the board would meet tonight and agree by resolution to ask for no damages and then sign the waiver.

McMorris Not a Signer.

James F. McMorris, the wholesale liquor dealer, who owns the property at 512 Grant street, just opposite the cathedral property now owned by H. C. Frick, said yesterday that he had not signed a waiver of damages. He said that he had not even been approached on the subject.

When Bigelow heard of the announcement made by Commissioner Carson Mercer that the county had not signed waivers, he made this statement:

"I will have a talk with the commissioners and show them some things. You can mark it down that they will not only agree to waive damage claims, but they will go farther."

When Commissioner Mercer was informed of this he said:

"Of course, I do not know what the other commissioners will do, but I am of the opinion that they will not sign."

Bigelow says that an act of congress may be necessary to secure a waiver for the government building. Saturday he had it marked on the chart as having been waived.

Demand will be made at the meeting of select council Monday, when the hump bond ordinance reaches that body, that the director, E. M. Bigelow, furnish councils with the waivers of property owners he claims to hold. No councilman, so far as known, has seen these waivers.

Council Wants the Waivers.

Select Councilman A. H. Leslie said yesterday that select council should see the waivers before any action whatever is taken on the hump ordinance.

"Director Bigelow claims to have a waiver for the public safety building in Sixth avenue. Who has been given the right to waive damages on the city property?" asked Mr. Leslie. "I believe it is necessary for councils to pass a resolution before any person can waive damages for the city. We are beginning to find out that there is considerable property on which damages have not been waived and select council should investigate the matter thoroughly before passing the ordinance."

"The denial by the county commissioners and a number of property owners to having signed waivers verifies what I charged on the floor of common council last Friday night," said William Brand yesterday. "I said then that I had learned by a personal investigation that Director Bigelow had stated what was not true when he told us that he had waivers on certain properties. The next day I met Mr. Bigelow on the street and he took me in task about the statement. I asked him to show me the waivers and he refused. I would like to ask right here who has seen any of the waivers?

Bigelow Would Not Produce.

"I asked the director if he had waivers for the Todec and Kaufmann properties, and he said he had the waivers in his office, but I know positively that no waivers have been signed. The people will find that the hump improvement is going to cost a sum vastly greater than $2,000,000. I know another thing, and that is if the South Side is not provided for in the filtration bond issue the South Side will go to the polls and vote against it.

"When the filtration bill went up in common council I put the matter up to the South Side members. The councilmen on this side of the Monongahela river have no sick because we will get filtered water while the South Side is left out. We were ready to help the South Side members get filtered water, but they did not choose to help themselves or their constituents."

May Be Two Bond Issues.

Director Bigelow said Saturday that he had been securing waivers of hump damages for more than a year, and it is claimed that many of those he holds are old waivers and do not apply to the new grade which Director Bigelow has established for the hump district. When the removal of the hump was proposed several years ago a grade was established which has since been changed to make a deeper cut in the hump.

Ordinances for the regrading of the streets and alleys in the hump district, 24 in all, were approved yesterday by the public works committee. These streets were mentioned in the original bond ordinance for the hump removal, but a substitute ordinance, which was adopted by the finance committee and passed by common council, omits the names of all streets except Fifth avenue. Those opposing the ordinance claim that there is a deep motive in the change and that it means a second issue of bonds besides the proposed issue of $2,000,000.

The members of the chamber of commerce committee, which appeared before the finance committee of councils, claimed that the change would permit the director of public works to spend the entire $2,000,000 on the improvement of Fifth avenue and to leave the balance of the hump district to be provided for by a second bond issue.

SALARY SEEKERS SHELVED.

Mayor Hays Decides That Appeals of City Employes Will Be in Vain.

"There are at least 100 city employes who are ready to make a demand upon councils for increases of salary if councils should grant a single increase, and for this reason it has been decided wise to advance no salaries whatever, at least this year," said Mayor Hays yesterday. The committee of the whole of the finance committee in shelving all salary ordinances in a sub-committee. This statement of Mayor Hays confirms the story printed in The Gazette Monday.

In spite of the positive stand of Mayor Hays in regard to the matter, city employes are besieging him and the heads of departments with petitions. Among the most persistent salary seekers are the police magistrates, several of whom attended the meeting of the finance committee yesterday and labored for a long time with the members, endeavoring to persuade them that their appeals were deserving.

REJUVENATED, BISHOP PHELAN IS TO UNDERGO STRENUOUS DAY

Distinguished Prelates of the Church Come to Honor His Priestly Golden Jubilee.

PLAN ELABORATE PROGRAM

REV. CHARLES J. COYNE.
Rector of St. Francis de Sales' R. C. Church, McKees Rocks. He will be toastmaster at the banquet which will be one of the features of the Bishop Phelan Jubilee celebration.

As if the remembrance of the happiest day of his life, the day when he espoused Mother church, had imparted fresh circulation to his blood, strengthened his sinews and freshened up his whole system, the vigor with which Bishop Phelan gripped their hands and exchanged fraternal embrace surprised the dignitaries of the Catholic church who arrived in Pittsburgh last night to help the bishop celebrate worthily the day, 50 years ago, when he was ordained to the priesthood. They had heard and read that the venerable head of the Pittsburgh diocese was feeble, and they knew that for months he had been in retirement a few miles from the city, but they found the bishop with hair nearly as black as in his prime, with voice vigorous and handclasp strong.

There had been doubts whether the bishop would be able to go through the fatiguing exercises of today, the fiftieth anniversary of his ordination, but last night all doubts vanished. He will attend the pontifical high mass today, he will be present at the dinner tendered by Coadutor-Bishop J. F. Regis Canevin to the visiting bishops and clergy, and this evening he will receive an outpouring of the love and honor borne him by the Catholics of the diocese.

Bishop's Strenuous Day.

It will be for an old man a day of strenuous doing, but the bishop's friends now have not the slightest doubt but that he will be equal to the strain.

The beginning of the festivities incident to the celebration to the bishop's golden jubilee really began last evening, when the distinguished princes of the church who were to honor the occasion arrived in the city. Hundreds of Catholics had gathered at the Union station. The uniformed Knights of St. George, the Knights of St. John and 150 of the Knights of Columbus, accompanied by bands, were waiting at the station, and Bishop Canevin and Archbishop Ryan of Philadelphia with prominent priests of the diocese, were there to greet Cardinal Gibbons and other prelates and monsignors expected on the 7:05 p. m. train.

Promptly the train pulled in to the Union station, bearing the special car that had been sent out on Monday. Archbishop Ryan and Bishop Canevin rapidly made their way to the platform, while a reception committee of priests and laymen went through the gates to meet the train. As Cardinal Gibbons came along the platform the members of the reception committee knelt down and kissed the episcopal ring on the hand of the cardinal.

Separated from the Cardinal.

As the party passed through the gate the crowd got between the visitors and Archbishop Ryan and Bishop Canevin. These two hurried through the waiting room and met the cardinal and the other church dignitaries at the outer end of the exit passage alongside the station. Here 12 carriages were in waiting. Preceded by an escort of mounted police under command of Police Captain Bartley and a band, the procession went down Liberty street, up Fifth avenue and up Washington street to the parish house of Epiphany church, temporarily the bishop's residence. The Knights of St. John preceded and the Knights of St. George followed the vehicles. The Knights of Columbus brought up the rear.

At the bishop's door the Knights of St. John formed in double file through which the carriages were driven. Cardinal Gibbons and Bishop Canevin were in the first carriage. All the guests descended and went into the residence. Cardinal Gibbons immediately went upstairs to see Bishop Phelan, who is confined to his room by illness. The entire party then went to the Catholic lyceum, nearby, inspected the building and saw a class of young athletes at work with the dumbbells. The cardinal was much pleased with the building and the plan of combining amusement with mental and physical instruction in force.

Guests of Bishop Phelan.

After the inspection of the lyceum the party returned to the bishop's residence where refreshments were served and then the bishops were taken to the house of the priests who will entertain them during their stay. The cardinal and Archbishop Ryan are the guests of Bishop Phelan.

The party that came in the special car was composed of Cardinal Gibbons, Bishop Hoban of Scranton, Bishop Garvey of Altoona, Auxiliary Bishop Prendergast of Philadelphia, Father Walter Elliott of the Paulist order and several priests. Later in the evening Bishop Donahoe of Wheeling, W. Va., and Bishop Horstmann of Cleveland came in. Bishop Hartley of Columbus arrived earlier in the day.

The celebration will begin today. At 10 a. m. pontifical high mass, admission to which is by ticket, will be held at the Epiphany church. Cardinal Gibbons and the visiting bishops will occupy thrones in the sanctuary and Bishop Phelan will be seated on his throne, which no other bishop may occupy. Archbishop Ryan will be the celebrant of the mass, Bishop Cohalan will be deacon and Bishop Shanahan Phelan will give the papal blessing.

Dinner at Hotel Schenley.

At 1:30 p. m. there will be a dinner at the Hotel Schenley, at which Bishops Phelan and Canevin and the visiting bishops and clergy will be present.

At 8 p. m. there will be a public meeting at Carnegie music hall. Willis F. McCook will preside. At 9:30 p. m. Bishop Phelan will hold a reception in the art gallery, to which the audience will be admitted. The committee that will introduce the people to Bishop Phelan and the visiting prelates is composed of Willis F. McCook, J. J. Flannery, John Farrell, J. J. Reilly and William Loeffler.

Admission to the meeting and reception will be by ticket, but among the invited guests will be the mayors of Pittsburgh and Allegheny, prominent laymen, Protestant and Catholic, and the judges of the common pleas courts. The judges of the superior court yesterday were invited to attend by Father Thomas Devlin, chairman of the committee of arrangements. They promised to attend.

The stage at Carnegie hall will be occupied by the following:

Greeting from Knights of Columbus.

The Knights of Columbus, in state convention assembled, adopted yesterday the following congratulatory telegram:

The delegates to the Pennsylvania state council of the Knights of Columbus, in convention assembled in the city of Pittsburgh, on Tuesday, May 3, 1904, tender to the Rt. Rev. Richard Phelan, D. D., Bishop of the diocese of Pittsburgh, their most sincere congratulations on the auspicious anniversary of his golden jubilee in the sacred priesthood.

Assembled in his diocese and witness to the marvelous growth of the church under his jurisdiction, they feel and recognize that they have come together to further the interest of their order in truly Catholic lines in a propitious hour. The delegates join with their brothers of the Pittsburgh diocese in wishing to the right reverend Bishop additional length of years to continue his splendid work. With feelings of respect and love they recall his blessings on our order and its work when he welcomed it seven years ago to his diocese with his fatherly approbation.

EPISCOPAL CONVENTION OPENS AT PHILADELPHIA

Pennsylvania Gathering Adopts Resolutions to Be Presented at General Convention.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, May 3.—The 120th convention of the Episcopal church began its sessions this morning in St. Luke's and Epiphany church. The Rev. H. M. G. Hill, rector of Holy Trinity, secretary and the Rev. Charles L. Fulworth, assistant secretary. With but one negative vote the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That the diocese of Pennsylvania, in annual convention assembled, heartily unites with the diocese of Milwaukee in a request to the general convention to take such action as may be necessary under the ninth article of the constitution, to establish extra diocesan courts of review, and a court of appeal for the final determination of questions of doctrine, faith and worship.

At the afternoon session Bishop Whitaker delivered his annual address and the report of the board of missions was presented. CHESTER D. POTTER.

WOMAN FOUND DEAD.

Man With Her Wounded—Murder and Attempted Suicide Charged.

NEW YORK, May 3.—Attracted by a man's cries for help, tenants in a flat building in West Forsyth street, today, found Mary Emma Kaufmann dead in bed in her apartment and Adolph Koenig, aged 26, lying by her side with a knife wound in his abdomen. Koenig said he found the woman dead when he called at the house, about midnight and that, overcome with grief, he attempted to end his life. A police captain said he was convinced that it was clearly a case of murder and attempted suicide.

The Kaufmann woman was cast off by her husband about two months ago because of her infatuation for Koenig, the husband says. She was 25 years old.

DAMROSCH'S POPULARITY ASSURES LARGE AUDIENCE

An evidence of Walter Damrosch's popularity with Pittsburghers, and of the interest in "Parsifal" is found in the heavy advance sale for the "Parsifal" matinee at the Carnegie music hall Saturday. The sale opened Monday at Hamilton's music store, and before night half the house had been sold. The matinee will be of such excellence as to lend it absolutely unique. Mr. Damrosch's explanatory remarks alone would be sufficient attraction, to say nothing of the work of his symphony orchestra, the Mendelssohn Quintette club, the male soloists, the violin solos by David Mannes and the choruses by 60 local singers. This concert will mark the end of Mr. Damrosch's present tour, which has been very successful.

FOUND THE GOODS ON HIM, EXCEPT A PAWNED WATCH

Foster Hand, aged 20, of 1808 Mary street, was arrested last night. Early in the evening Minnie Aber of 1808 Mary street, reported to the police that her room had been entered and a watch and chain, three rings, a brooch and a gold charm, the whole valued at about $100, stolen. Policeman found that Hand, who roomed at the house, had packed up to move. At South Twenty-fourth and Carson streets he was arrested. At the station all the stolen goods, excepting the watch, were found. The watch had been pawned.

EDGAR THOMSON BEING RUSHED TO FILL ORDERS.

No. 1 mill at the Edgar Thomson steel works, Braddock, was placed on billets yesterday, and it is said will continue rolling them for an indefinite time, owing to the unusual demand for this class of steel. The mill was the original rail mill erected by Andrew Carnegie at Braddock and after the completion of the new rail mill, it was rebuilt and had been rolling small rails until yesterday, when it was placed on billets for the first time.

Benefit Concert Given.

An excellent program of singing and recitation was given last night in Allegheny Carnegie Music hall by the congregation of the Twelfth United Presbyterian church for the benefit of the fund being raised for the purpose of erecting a new church at Western avenue and Manhattan street. Those who took part were: Messrs. Elsden, D. J. George, J. Harris, H. Rees, Samuel Beddis, Miss Annie Rees, Miss Hassie Morris, Miss Matilda D. Edelman and Miss Mina Love.

Drew College Destroyed.

CARMEL, N. Y., May 3.—Drew college, one of the pioneer educational institutions for women in the country, was destroyed by fire today, entailing a financial loss of fully $100,000 with only $25,000 insurance. How the fire originated is unknown. Drew college was conducted under the direction of the New York conference of the Methodist Episcopal church.

Election in St. Paul.

ST. PAUL, MINN., May 3.—Robert A. Smith, Democrat, was re-elected mayor today by probably 1,000 plurality over Col. Frederick W. Wright, Republican. The vote was unusually heavy for a municipal election. Returns indicate the re-election of Otto Bremer, Democrat, as city treasurer. The contest between Louis Betz, Democrat, and Frank A. Seiber, Republican, for comptroller is exceedingly close, with indications favoring Gerber. The Democrats will probably control councils.

ADMIRAL SCHLEY GUEST OF HONOR

soubrette, introduced the six candidates for admission. William R. Rowe was absent from the city and was therefore excused, although a bit of poetry in his honor was recited. W. Linford Smith, Y. H. Boggs, Francis L. Robbins, Arthur A. Hamerschlag and Robert Pitney followed in order, and all except the last were required to make a speech.

All had to answer to the question, "In what condition?"

To this the answer was, "Not a single blister on his body."

The final response, "Then let him be admitted to our mystic source," was accompanied by the deep thumps of tomtoms.

Mr. Pitney was held for later use. The song, "Crucible Club," was used for each candidate.

Suddenly a band of Scottish bag-pipers marched around the banquet hall. They mounted the stage, and over them was displayed the sign, "Hero Commission." They went to work immediately. Frank J. Torrance was the chairman of the commission and was ably seconded by Mr. Burke.

The first medal was awarded to Mrs. Carnegie "for being Andy's wife;" the second to William Flinn for remaining out of politics." The third to Robert Pitcairn for hanging on to his job so long; the fourth to "Tom" Ford for getting a pass from Robert Pitcairn, and on motion he was given two medals. To "Bill" Hays a medal was given for thinking he is mayor of Pittsburgh, and to "Ed." Bigelow another medal "for his satisfactory administration as mayor of the city." To John Dalzell a medal was awarded for making an appointment without consulting Mayor John Haymaker for letting go of the district attorneyship; to Elliott Rodgers for going on the bench before he was of age; to J. Dawson Callery for going into the leather business as a young man and remaining in it still, by making people hang on to the straps in street cars. A. Murat Vernon in acknowledgment of leaving a little bit of the town for the people; to "Phil" Knox for "Knoxing" out the trusts; to John Marron for not denying he's Dutch, and finally to Admiral Schley, now for going through the Santiago campaign, but for having come to Pittsburgh over the Baltimore & Ohio.

The awards were followed by a sword dance in which the participants were Messrs. Torrance and Burke.

Address by Justice Rice.

Chief Justice Charles G. Rice of the superior court then spoke at some length and was greatly applauded.

A session of the license court followed. The judges were Henry Alvin Hall and Walter Lyon. John C. Haymaker appeared in behalf of the Anti-Saloon league and Judge Joseph Buffington of the United States district court represented the applicant. The case was appealed to the superior court and was heard before a sleepy and booze-favoring lot of judges.

In the meantime, however, John P. Elkin had made a speech, eloquent and strong, that created a great impression. Judge Brady of the superior court also spoke in the same vein.

One of the best speeches came near the close, when Col. Henry Hall, the Pittsburgh newspaper man, spoke on "Pittsburgh." The dinner adjourned at midnight.

Just before the dinner started a business meeting of the members was held and the following officers were chosen for the coming year: President, the Hon. W. D. Porter of the superior court; vice president, Judge Joseph Buffington of the United States district court; secretary, James Francis Burke; treasurer, William Montgomery; governors, W. D. Porter, Joseph Buffington, William Montgomery, Francis J. Torrance, Walter Lyon, Arthur C. Burgoyne, C. A. Rook, Robert Pitcairn and J. L. D. Speer.

Police Inspectors McStay and Bailey Had Narrow Escape at Cleveland.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CLEVELAND, May 3.—Inspector of Police Barney McStay of Pittsburgh; Inspector M. E. Bailey of the same city; Chief of Police McDowell of Youngstown and Detective Jake Mintz narrowly escaped injuries in an exciting automobile accident this afternoon. One man, unknown, was roughly shaken up and slightly injured and all that remains of Mintz's automobile is a cushion.

Mr. Finney was held for later use. The song, "Crucible Club," was used for each candidate.

Suddenly a band of Scottish bag-pipers marched around the banquet hall. They mounted the stage, and over them was displayed the sign, "Hero Commission." They went to work immediately. Frank J. Torrance was the chairman of the commission and was ably seconded by Mr. Burke.

The first medal was awarded to Mrs. Carnegie "for being Andy's wife;" the second to William Flinn for remaining out of politics." The third to Robert Pitcairn for hanging on to his job so long; the fourth to "Tom" Ford for getting a pass from Robert Pitcairn, and on motion he was given two medals. To "Bill" Hays a medal was given for thinking he is mayor of Pittsburgh, and to "Ed." Bigelow another medal "for his satisfactory administration as mayor of the city." To John Dalzell a medal was awarded for making an appointment without consulting Mayor John Haymaker for letting go of the district attorneyship; to Elliott Rodgers for going on the bench before he was of age; to J. Dawson Callery for going into the leather business as a young man and remaining in it still, by making people hang on to the straps in street cars. A. Murat Vernon in acknowledgment of leaving a little bit of the town for the people; to "Phil" Knox for "Knoxing" out the trusts; to John Marron for not denying he's Dutch, and finally to Admiral Schley, now for going through the Santiago campaign, but for having come to Pittsburgh over the Baltimore & Ohio.

The awards were followed by a sword dance in which the participants were Messrs. Torrance and Burke.

Address by Justice Rice.

Chief Justice Charles G. Rice of the superior court then spoke at some length and was greatly applauded.

A session of the license court followed. The judges were Henry Alvin Hall and Walter Lyon. John C. Haymaker appeared in behalf of the Anti-Saloon league and Judge Joseph Buffington of the United States district court represented the applicant. The case was appealed to the superior court and was heard before a sleepy and booze-favoring lot of judges.

In the meantime, however, John P. Elkin had made a speech, eloquent and strong, that created a great impression. Judge Brady of the superior court also spoke in the same vein.

One of the best speeches came near the close, when Col. Henry Hall, the Pittsburgh newspaper man, spoke on "Pittsburgh." The dinner adjourned at midnight.

Just before the dinner started a business meeting of the members was held and the following officers were chosen for the coming year: President, the Hon. W. D. Porter of the superior court; vice president, Judge Joseph Buffington of the United States district court; secretary, James Francis Burke; treasurer, William Montgomery; governors, W. D. Porter, Joseph Buffington, William Montgomery, Francis J. Torrance, Walter Lyon, Arthur C. Burgoyne, C. A. Rook, Robert Pitcairn and J. L. D. Speer.

HELD ALL-DAY MEETING.

Annual Conference of New Convenant Mission Yesterday—Treasurer's Report Good.

J. B. Corey, treasurer of the New Covenant mission, 338 Forty-second street, announced yesterday, during the second annual all-day conference of the mission, that he had deposited $3,000 to the credit of the mission in the East End bank, of which $4,000 was to be applied to the mission mortgage and $5,000 as the nucleus of the $100,000 fund for the erection of a Hebrew hospital.

The morning session was devoted to the discussion of "Intercessory Prayer for Israel," "Our Jewish Mission," and "Spirit-Called and Filled, Hebrew-Christian Laborers." Devotional exercises and addresses constituted the afternoon session, while during the evening a song service was conducted and reports were read by officers of the mission.

USED $5,000 TOO MUCH.

Lawmakers of Crafton and Other Boroughs Meet and Transact Their Business.

Crafton borough's council approved a lot of bills last night and then learned that the treasury was worse than empty, for there was no money in it and $5,000 in the sale of bonds for the floating debt had been used to pay for other things. The president and clerk were instructed to borrow $5,000 to put back into the bond fund.

At the meeting of Ingram council the president, Thomas J. Ohl, handed in his resignation, because of pressing business interests in Pittsburg

SENATORS ARE NOW FRIENDLY

Friends of Charles F. McKenna Believe That He Will Get Porto Rican Judgeship.

QUAY AND DALZELL CONFER

Friends of Charles F. McKenna have reason for believing that he will soon be Judge of the United States court for the District of Porto Rico. From Washington comes the information that Senators Quay and Penrose have withdrawn their objections.

Penrose and Congressman John Dalzell are now on their way to Cuba. Before they left Washington, Monday, it is understood that they had settled their differences. On Sunday Dalzell and Quay had a conference on the McKenna appointment. The senator is reported to have made some remarks about the judgeship being a senatorial appointment and that the congressman had erred in neglecting to consult with Penrose. When Quay had finished his lecture on senatorial courtesy, Dalzell was given to understand that there would be no further objection on the part of the senators. The plan is to allow the matter to rest until Penrose and Dalzell return from Cuba. Their home coming will doubtless be followed by the announcement that Mr. McKenna has received orders to begin his duties in Porto Rico.

Fred W. Edwards has returned from Washington, where he spent Sunday and Monday. In his opinion there is much reason for believing that all objection to the selection of Mr. McKenna has been withdrawn.

In quarter sessions court yesterday Judge James R. Macfarlane ordered a special election in Elliott borough, to vote on the annexation of the town to the city. The day of election was set for Saturday, June 4. The court also orders that several handbills be posted in the borough and that the election be advertised. The county commissioners will prepare special ballots.

Gov. S. W. Pennypacker yesterday appointed Benjamin C. Barton alderman of the Seventh ward. The appointment is to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Alderman James R. Commiskey, who has opened a saloon. In the selection of Barton the governor recognized the regular Republican organization. The Citizens were trying to secure the place for one of their number.

ALLEGHENY BURGLAR TOOK $311.65 FROM SAFE

Thief Left $108 in the Wallet from Which Money Was Taken.

The Allegheny police are puzzled over a strange safe robbery reported yesterday afternoon. Walter Weltersbausen, a real estate broker at 747 East Ohio street, telephoned to Central station that $311 65 had been taken from his safe some time Monday night or early Tuesday morning. The thief was evidently familiar both with the building and the safe, as the combination of the latter had been worked and the strong box inside had been opened with a key that was left in a drawer in a desk in the office. The key was put back in its usual place and $108 in bills was left in the big wallet from which the balance of the money was taken. A panel had been cut out of the door cellar door and the door unlocked. Through the cellar the thief went to a stairway leading to the first floor. A hole was cut in this door also, and the bolt thrown back.

The office is occupied by Walter Weltersbausen, real estate agent, and his brother Charles, who is in the insurance business. On Monday Walter collected rents from a large number of tenants. The money not deposited in the bank was left in a small safe standing between two larger safes.

ALLEGHENY CHILDREN TO HONOR COL. ANDERSON

School Controllers Order That They Attend Unveiling of Statue on June 15.

Allegheny school children will participate in the exercises in connection with the unveiling of the Col. James Anderson monument, on June 15. This is the result of the action of the board of school controllers last night.

J. W. Robinson made such a motion, after briefly outlining the historic connection of the monument and the impression the exercises would convey to the minds of the children.

The report of the grade and text books committee was received and adopted, but lies over for a month, according to rule. An amendment was adopted to the report adding "Simond's English Literature," "Mathew's American History" and "Maxwell & Smith's Writing in English," to the list. An amendment to increase the number of "Rational Spellers," to allow each pupil to have one, failed. Reports of standing committees were approved and a number of bills ordered paid, among which was that of Contractor F. A. Krause of the High school building, for a balance amounting to $17,000.

The library committee was instructed to take charge of the library room as soon as the annex is taken out of the contractor's hands.

LORAIN NEEDS HOUSES.

Chamber of Commerce Official Here to Interest Builders.

"We must have more houses in Lorain at once," said Frank A. Rowley, chairman of the Lorain (O.) chamber of commerce, yesterday. Mr. Rowley is in Pittsburgh for the express purpose of interesting capital in the rapidly-growing Ohio city where the National Tube Company is now completing a $20,000,000 plant.

On the authority of President W. H. Schiller of that company it is stated that the first part of the works will start this summer and the rest will be rushed to completion inside of a year. Mr. Schiller joins with the Lorain chamber of commerce in urging the necessity for building homes for several thousand additional workmen who must be housed.

The town is offering liberal inducements to investors. Mr. Rowley stated yesterday that a guarantee of 25 per cent return on the investment would be given. He expects to remain in Pittsburgh all week.

"The Serenade" Next Week.

Mr. Sam I. Studley, the able music director of The Bostonians, regards the orchestral score of "The Serenade," which The Bostonians will sing here at the Nixon next week, as one of the finest ever composed for a comic opera. The gallery gods catch the many refrains in a moment, and the educated musician takes a delight in the same music. It is rare indeed that gallery and pit agree in musical, or even dramatic matters.

Councils Want Gates Built.

Braddock council will endeavor to compel the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company to erect safety gates at all grade crossings in that borough. A special committee of council will confer with the railroad officials today in regard to the matter. If the gates are not erected watchmen or operators placed at them within a limited time it is expected the borough will erect gates and try to make the railroad company foot the bill.

Street Improvements Approved.

The council committee on public works yesterday affirmatively recommended ordinances authorizing letting a contract to build the Mission street bridge; repairing Liberty, third street, widening Murray avenue, and for grading, paving and curbing Kentucky avenue, Oswego, Chateau, Melton, Bryant and Kincaid streets and McSherry alley.

ADMIRAL SCHLEY'S WAITER WENT CRAZY FROM HEAT

Frenzied Employe of Duquesne Club Runs Amuck During Banquet of Crucible Club—Overcome After a Long, Hard Battle.

While the members of the Crucible club and their guests were making merry in the banquet hall of the Duquesne club last night, the attaches of the place were battling with a crazy man on the floor below, his frenzied shrieks intermingling with the music of the feast. It was a full hour before the man, whose name the officials of the club refused to divulge, but who was known as William, was finally subdued and hustled away from the club under an escort of waiters.

The man is a veteran of the Spanish-American war and has been employed in the club for several months. During his service in the Philippines he suffered from sunstroke.

Being an unusually good waiter the man was last night assigned to care for the honor guests, including Admiral W. S. Schley. The banquet room became heated during the evening, and about 11 o'clock the captain of the waiters noticed William acting peculiarly and called him from the room.

Outside in the hall he questioned the waiter and for reply received a crushing blow in the face. A half dozen waiters sprang at William and attempted to drag him away, but the now thoroughly crazed man was bent upon re-entering the banquet hall. Striking madly to the right and left, he knocked down two or three waiters and was about to burst through the door into the room where the festivities were at their height.

Suddenly he changed his mind and ran down the hall, upsetting a couple of waiters on his way. Screaming madly, he fled downstairs toward the kitchens, pursued by a half dozen employes of the club, including the steward and captain. In the rear of the ground floor they closed in on him.

With almost superhuman strength he knocked them aside with such force that one man was rendered unconscious. Finally three or four men caught hold of him and together they rolled about the floor of the narrow hallway leading to the alley in the rear. Frothing at the mouth and yelling with all his might, the crazed man tried to wrench himself free and during the melee his clothes were stripped from him.

A telephone message was sent to Mercy hospital for the ambulance, but when it arrived the surgeon in charge refused to take charge of the case, stating that Williams was in such a frenzied condition that it would be impossible to get him into the hospital. All this time Williams was cursing lustily and fighting over again the battles in which he had participated in the Philippines.

After considerable delay the patrol wagon from Central police station was summoned, and by the time it arrived a sufficient amount of cracked ice had been piled on Williams' forehead to quiet him somewhat. The steward ordered that he be locked up and the police were about to handcuff him when a number of waiters announced that they would prevent his being taken to the police station, and threatened the steward with violence.

After much debate, during which the police left in disgust, a closed carriage was procured. With his arms pinioned to his sides and under a heavy guard, William was taken to the home of a friend.

Identified By Their Victim.

John Kane, James Burns and J. H. Ziegler were arrested under the Ninth street bridge early this morning and later identified by Michael Roscoe, a foreigner, who alleges the men enticed him to the Allegheny river bank and robbed and beat him. Roscoe, with his wife and child, arrived at Union station from Wilkesbarre, Pa., late last night. He left his family in the station while he went outside to smoke, and later met the three men. The men were locked up on a charge of being suspicious persons.

HAPPY MOTHER'S TOUCHING STORY

Of Baby's Dreadful Suffering from Eczema.

CURED BY CUTICURA.

Now His Skin Is as White as a Snowflake.

"A terrible rash broke out on Charlie's poor little face and spread to his neck, chest and back. I had never seen anything quite like it before," writes Mrs. Helena Rath of 821 10th Ave., N. Y. City. "The skin rose in little lumps, and matter came out. My baby's skin was hot, and how he did suffer. He wouldn't eat, and night after night I walked the floor with him, weak as I was. Often I had to stop because I felt faint and my back throbbed with pain. But the worst pain of all was to see my poor little boy burning with those nasty sores. At last I was persuaded by a friend across the street to try the Cuticura Remedies. She gave me some Cuticura Ointment—I think the box was about half full—and a piece of Cuticura Soap. I followed the directions, bathing Charlie and putting that nice Ointment on the sores. Little by little, but so surely, Charlie and I both got more peace by day and more sleep by night. The sores sort of dried up and went away, and now Charlie is cured completely.

"Yes, that fat little boy by the window is Charlie, and his skin is as white as a snowflake, thanks to the Cuticura Remedies. I think everybody should know about the Soap and Ointment, and if it is going to help other mothers with sick babies, go ahead and publish what I have told you."

Sold throughout the world. Cuticura Resolvent, 50c (in form of Chocolate Coated Pills, 25c per vial of 60). Ointment, 50c. Soap 25c. Depots: London, 27 Charterhouse Sq.; Paris, 5 Rue de la Paix; Boston, 137 Columbus Ave. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props.

The New Spring Oxfords for Boys.

We believe in selling boys the kind of shoes boys like. On the principle that they'll only be boys once, we believe they should have shoes to suit their tastes. Our shoes for boys are built on lasts that they like, mannish in outline, and even more extreme as to style than the shoes for their elders.

We have the most complete line of boys' oxfords ever shown in Pittsburgh. More variety in lasts than you would expect. As to leathers, patent leather, Russian tan and calfskin, just as full of style as can be, yet withal as serviceable as a shoe can well be made.

Boys' Oxfords, all leathers, sizes 1 to 6, widths A to D, at $3.00, in which you will discover $4.00 worth of goodness the moment you see them.

Boys' Box Calf Shoes, the kind that will stand the hardest kind of service. Sizes 2½ to 5½, widths B, C and D. $2.50 a pair.

Little Boys' Shoes in all the desirable styles, $2.00, $2.25, $2.50.

An aside to the boys: If you want something very dressy on the new swing last, see our Patent Leather Button Shoes. Sizes 2½ to 6. $3.50 a pair.

On this same ultra-fashionable last, boys' lace shoes, sizes 1 to 6, at $3.00 a pair.

Little Boys' Oxfords in Russia tan, box calf and patent leather, made on lasts that will tickle the little fellows on sight. Sizes 9 to 13½—all widths—$2.00 and $2.50 a pair.

Above we cite three items which we think will interest the average woman.

And now we'll tell you of something in suitings that's exclusively here:

56-inch wide Tailor Suitings in neat runabout styles and fetching color mixtures—silver gray, brown, tan, marine blue, made of fine Australian yarns, exactly copying the $3.00 and $3.50 a yard British cloths. $1.50 a yard.

These are pretty enough to wear on any occasion—from $7.50 to $16.50.

A Lace Notice.

New Parasols, Plain and Elaborate.

Do you think the young lady who is about to graduate would appreciate anything as a graduation gift more than a dainty parasol? Isn't that a suggestion? A trimmed parasol, for instance. They were never prettier than this year, and yet they are not at all expensive. Examples:

For $5.00 white and black taffeta Parasols trimmed with deep double ruffle of chiffon. Another style has two ruffles of chiffon, one above the other—both very pretty.
For $7.50 white taffeta Parasols with insertings of lace and as a finish deep chiffon ruffle.
For $8.00. Parasols of tucked white taffeta. This also has two deep ruffles of chiffon.

OUR $3.00 PARASOLS—At this price we have more variety than at any other. $3.00 seems to be a popular figure for a parasol. For $3.00 we have taffeta parasols with tucked borders. At the same price Pongee Parasols lined with a charming color and finished with tucked borders.

If you would like some yet more elaborate, we can show you the airiest of creations, a mass of frills, for $23.00.

The New Linings for Suits and Gowns.

All that is newest and best in cotton and silk linings is here. We can serve you with the best lining for the money, whether you want a nice, serviceable percaline or a handsome silk lining. Say, for instance, you want a lining for your tan covert jacket—we'll show you either satin or satin serge in shades of tan to match the coat, and ask you but 50c a yard.

For an all-around serviceable lining silk, put your faith in Bonbay Hewetson Lining Silk—we fully guarantee it and so does the manufacturer. It won't split, nor tear, nor stretch. It comes in black, white and all colors and in two widths; 19 inches, 50c a yard; 27 inches, 75c a yard.

If a less expensive lining silk is desired we have a very nice quality for 35c a yard in all colors and black.

If you favor Moire Percaline as a lining, we can match the color of your Spring dress and ask you only 12½c to 38c a yard for the percaline.

Our 25c a yard Percaline is used by many, very many dressmakers, in preference to all others. It must therefore be the best of its kind.

Wednesday, May 4, 1904.

With the appropriation made by the North Side councils, the ladies of the Allegheny Summer Playgrounds association have completed arrangements for eight playgrounds this season, as compared with but three last season. It is a good work. The benefits conferred upon children, whose ordinary playground is the public street, by these well-managed, genuine playgrounds cannot be computed, but they are great. The movement should continue to grow until wholesome recreation is made a part of the endowment of every child in the city.

Some of the planks proposed for the Republican national platform are given out for publication this morning. No Republican will quarrel with those reaffirming the protective principle of the tariff, with changes in schedules demanded by changes in conditions; indorsing the administration and its acts; commanding the fiscal policy adopted, or pointing out that all that has been done to regulate huge commercial or industrial combinations has been done under Republican laws by Republican administrators. But there will be positive objections to the convention taking backward step from the attitude of Blaine and of McKinley toward reciprocity. A large element of the Republican party does not approve the senatorial dictum on this subject.

An event of more than ordinary interest, inaugurated last evening, is the golden jubilee of the Rt. Rev. Richard Phelan, bishop of the Pittsburgh diocese of the Roman Catholic church. Today is the fiftieth anniversary of Bishop Phelan's ordination as a priest. Since then he has advanced by virtue of his ability and devotion to his church to the position he occupies as the head of one of the most important diocesan charges in this country. It is given to comparatively few clergymen to celebrate the golden anniversary of their orders and this event is deemed worthy of the attendance of some of the most distinguished prelates in America. The aged bishop is in good health and his friends hope he may live to celebrate his diamond jubilee, after his new cathedral has been built.

Speaker Cannon has come out with the positive statement that he will not be a candidate for the vice presidency. The gentleman from Illinois declares that political expedience does not require that a candidate shall come from his state, as Illinois is more strongly Republican than for 25 years. Mr. Cannon, despite his declaration, may not be able to escape the vice presidency. Others have made equally strong declarations and have become vice president notwithstanding. If the delegates to the Chicago convention decide that Mr. Cannon is the man wanted as President Roosevelt's running mate, they will not be denied, and the speaker knows it. He is too strong and conservative to be overlooked in the seeking out of ticket material, and nothing said at this early date will change the conviction that Roosevelt and Cannon would make a most excellent combination. However, there are other strong men mentioned for the honor, and as Mr. Cannon is doing very well as speaker of the house, there will be a disposition to respect his wish to remain there. It is too soon to make an irrevocable decision in this matter.

The inherent conflict between electioneering service and police discipline is probably at the bottom of the present situation in the police department which exhibits the play of cross purposes. No force, which constitutes a part of the political, as is and has been the case with the Pittsburgh police, can develop a high state of discipline or efficiency. Director Moore's position makes him feel the pressure of responsibility to an extent which prompts measures that collide with the interests of ward politicians who are in a position to exert influence counteracting his efforts. This is no new thing. Supt. McAleese in resigning his office spoke very plainly as to the way in which political influence had thwarted his efforts. There is but one radical cure and that is to take the force completely out of politics and prohibiting policemen from doing any sort of electioneering. A police force should be recruited and disciplined upon principles that effectually protect it from any invasion of local politics. In Canada this is accomplished by putting the force under the control of a small commission the majority in which is made up of judges, but Canada has an independent judiciary, constituted by appointment and holding office for life, so that there is no risk of exposing the bench to political dictation. That method would be impracticable under our system, and it is difficult to say how the problem is to be solved under American conditions.

Events Moving Rapidly.

Whatever complaints may have been made of the slow movement of the campaign in the far east during the preparatory stages, there is no room for such complaint now. The battle at the Yalu, so masterfully won by the Japanese, has been followed by an action of less import at Gensan, on the east coast of Korea, on Russian initiative, and now there are reliable advices that the Japanese have attacked and taken Ntuchwang, on the Liao-Tung gulf, the Russians falling back to protect the railway to Port Arthur. This victory, if confirmed, indicates the speedy cutting off of Port Arthur from communication with the interior, since the Russians are assailed from both sides at once.

Meanwhile the third attempt of Admiral Togo to bottle up Alexieff's fleet at Port Arthur has failed and the Japanese lost two torpedo boats in the effort, together with a number of men, including 30 captured by the Russians. By way of revenge and to insure non-interference of the Russian fleet with transports carrying soldiers to the head of Korea bay and Liao-Tung gulf, Admiral Togo began a bombardment of Port Arthur at daybreak yesterday, which was proceeding at noon, the latest advices received up to this writing.

It is apparent from the vigor of the Japanese onslaught on both sides of the Liao-Tung peninsula that it purposes to cut off Port Arthur at once and put an end to Russian naval power in the far east, beyond the possibility of redemption by Baltic or Black sea fleets. The report of the capture of the Vladivostok squadron is unconfirmed, but if it is not captured it will be closely confined to its home port. If Russia intends to make any effort worthy of the name to hold its position in Manchuria, it must soon begin to hold its ground. A big battle may be fought at Fung-Wang-Cheng (Feng-Huang-Cheng) within a few days, or it may be avoided by the Japanese pending the advance of troops from other directions. Kuropatkin has gone there in person, so the defence of that place should be an exhibition of Russia's best fighting ability.

Count Cassini's Plea.

Count Cassini, the Russian ambassador to the United States, has an article in the May number of the North American Review, which pleads the case of Russia with the view of influencing American opinion. He displays his skill as a diplomatist by converting into an argument in Russia's favor the way in which she was caught unprepared. He declares that "Russia was not prepared for war because she had no reason to expect war," and he holds that this alone is sufficient proof of his assertion that "Russia hoped for and tried to maintain peace." The record, however, shows that Russia offered a series of provocations to Japan, that could end only in war unless Japan was too abject to resent insult and injury. That Russia did not really expect war is quite certain, but the fact only shows the want of proper knowledge of the situation. Russia committed the double blunder of inviting war while not making due preparation for it.

Count Cassini's attempt to win American sentiment to Russia's side is a rather blunt appeal to love for the almighty dollar. Of course, "the yellow peril" is referred to, but that is such an old bogy that he wisely refrains from making much of it. His main argument is that if Japan is successful, her commercial activity will be so enhanced that she will take possession of the trade and commerce of the far east. The Japanese would take to cotton manufacturing; they would turn out plows and harrows, reapers and scythes. Count Cassini declares that "with their cheaper labor and their nearness to Manchuria, no other people could compete with the Japanese." But should Russia became dominant in Manchuria, "Japan, her enemy, could look for no favors; she could not expect to find encouragement for the importation of her manufactures." This, Count Cassini holds, would furnish a great opportunity to the United States. Exactly how, is not explained, save by the intimation that Manchuria would come "under Russian control with a friendly hand extended to the United States, and Japan given no encouragement."

The behavior which the United States has experienced from Russia in Manchuria does not correspond to these friendly professions. The effort has been to shut the door in our faces, and every step the United States has made to secure open ports has been antagonized by Russia. At the very time the war broke out Russia was resisting the coming of American consuls to Manchurian ports, and the first fruits of the Japanese victory on the Yalu is to enable our consul assigned to Antung to proceed to his post, from which the Russian authorities had been excluding him. Japan adheres to the policy of the open door, and that is all we ask. There can be no doubt that the victory of the Japanese will add immensely to the commercial opportunities of the United States.

The Hump Waivers.

Referring to a comparative list published in The Gazette of property owners in the hump district accredited with signing waivers of damages and those who have not, the Leader calls it "an article antagonistic to the removal of the Fifth avenue hump," and undertakes to refute the showing. The Leader, as usual, is in error. The Gazette is not and has not been opposing reduction of the hump, but has been laboring for the production of proofs that the cost will be kept within limits that may be approved by the voters at the polls. If the comparative list, published purely as a matter of news for the information of the public, appeared detrimental to the hump removal project, it was not the fault of The Gazette, but that of "the responsible property holders in the hump district" who have neglected to sign waivers of damages—not to mention acceptance of benefits—among whom the Leader declares "the sentiment in favor of removing the barrier which has been the means of forcing a congestion of traffic in the downtown district is practically unanimous."

The Gazette is willing to admit the unanimity of "the responsible property holders in the hump district" in favoring that improvement, but must contend they have not shown equal unanimity or willingness to have the work done at their own expense, after the manner of ordinary street improvements, or in foregoing, even, the right to collect damages at the expense of East End, Lawrenceville or South Side property owners who are not to be directly benefited. Since the comparative list complained of was published The Gazette has learned that important properties included in the list of waivers have not waived damages. These are in the very heart of the hump district, including the county property, the Bakewell and Yoder buildings and the McMorris property. If a charge of inaccuracy lies against anyone it is not against The Gazette.

Once again we affirm most positively that The Gazette is not opposed to the reduction of the hump. It has always been outspoken in favor of that improvement. It has said, with entire justice, that the heavy end of the cost ought to be borne by the properties that will be directly benefited, as other street improvements have been. It is ready to concede a measure of public assistance, as in the case of Grandview avenue. But before that assistance is assured it will be necessary to convince the people that the first estimate of cost is not to be swelled by subsequent bond issues and balances, as was the case with the Grant boulevard. The Gazette is asking merely for the necessary assurance and the Leader could help the project more by soliciting the aid of its directly interested fellows than by misrepresenting disinterested friends.

Crucible Club Banquet.

With Rear Admiral Schley as the guest of honor, the Crucible club's banquet at the Duquesne club last night was certain of success. And with the representative men of affairs of Pittsburgh as his hosts, Admiral Schley was assured of a warm welcome. The hero of Santiago holds a strong place in the hearts of the people of Pittsburgh, and he is always a welcome guest. When the admiral arose to speak he was given an enthusiastic reception, and was made to feel that deep down in our hearts he is revered as one of the heroes of our time.

Banquets such as that of the Crucible club are of great value to an industrial and financial center, such as is Pittsburgh. The gathering together of the men of prominence in every line of business brings them into closer relations and makes it easier for them to work together for the best interests of the whole people. Last night, bankers, financiers, scientists, lawyers, merchants and manufacturers intermingled, and there was naturally an exchange of ideas as well as a closer feeling of friendliness.

It is this friendliness and co-operation that goes far in helping to make Pittsburgh what it is today, and there is no better way of bringing men of affairs together than the way chosen by the Crucible club, at the banquet table.

The Quiet Observer

ERASMUS WILSON.

You touched a tender spot, old man, you touched a tender spot;
These little drops of kindness help a fellow out
a lot.
God bless the sweet expression, for it came from out the heart,
With all the deep affection that a friendship
can impart.

God bless you, dear old fellow, for you struck
a tender chord,
As true in wealth of beauty as our human hearts afford.
May you be with us years to come is all I wish
for you,
My dear old fellow, from a friend, most faithfully and true.

How grand if all the world were blest with such a human strain.
How many hearts o'erburdened now would have surceuse from pain;
"Old fellow" and "old man," ah, these expressions from the soul
Would drive out bitterness and hate and put love forever in control.
—Henry S. Chester.

A Sunday or two ago the United States senate held memorial service for dead comrades. It was a day of oratory—oratory of the eulogistic sort, which is held by orators to be the easiest sort, since it admits of gush of pathos and of spread eagle.

Nor was the fine oratory all heard by those who went to hear, as there was no one to stop the clock and the sun wouldn't stop of its own accord. "Leave to print" was given to those who could not get leave to speak. Hence the largeness of a following number of the Congressional Record, which, by the way, is a document worth preserving by those who are fond of literary curiosities and novelties. It contains specimens of about everything in the way of "funereal" oratory from Homer down to the author of "Dearest ——— thou hast left us."

Some of the orations over Senator Hanna were masterly as well as appropriate, but after all, there was nothing more fitting than the lines by Henry S. Chester of Indiana, quoted above.

* * * * *

You will notice that these lines contain the words of Senator Hanna in his reply to President Roosevelt's note, addressed to the former as he was nearing the fatal siege of his illness.

There isn't much else in the lines but the bare language of these two comrades who, at the time, were regarded as the two most powerful men of the nation. Nor did their simple, familiar greeting tend to lower them in the estimation of the people, but on the contrary, seemed to confirm their greatness and to popularize their names in the hearts of all.

Only the truly great can run the entire gamut from boyhood simplicity and heartsomeness to the highest dignity of manhood and statesmanship.

These lines are well worth preserving, for they constitute a gem poetic, and contain a sentiment worthy of the noblest heart. Future poet and orator may dissect at length on these words and on the occasion, but none, perhaps, will ever say more or better than did Henry S. Chester of Indiana.

These are the things that live, because they are the spirit of the event or occasion, rather than the mere words which describe in detail. They appeal to the heart rather than to the intellect and go far toward satisfying us that all really great men, lovable and humane, are not dead. And it is an inexpressible satisfaction to be able to realize that this is a fact, really and truly.

* * * * *

You may say that this is only commonplace poetry, and everyday sort of sentiment, and that anyone might have done just as well.

Suppose you knock off a few gems that equal it in brightness, or even knock off one that may be classed with it. By so doing you will not only make fame for yourself, but friends everywhere, and help your fellowman to become more helpful to each other. It is just such touches of nature that make us feel kindly toward each other, and it is this same kindly feeling that binds us together as a nation and prompts us to reach out and help our weaker neighbors who are vainly struggling for place and position in the world.

Take the selected gems from the works of the great masters of poetry and from these choose those that are best known and most popular and you will find that they are great in their simplicity rather than in their loftiness.

The simple truth of the matter is that we are brothers all and he who best enacts the brother part is the greatest among us.

When His disciples were each striving to be regarded as greatest among them, the Master said:

"The kings of the Gentiles exercise lordship over them; and they that exercise authority upon them are called benefactors. But ye shall not be so; but he that is greatest among you, let him be as the younger; and he that is chief, as he that doth serve."

* * * * *

It is not merely what is said about us that will make us great, but that which we have done that has caused the people to think of us kindly.

You may startle the people with loud words, or even with great thoughts and wonderful doings, yet these will be forgotten long before the memory of some friendly act has disappeared. Or you may startle your friends by becoming wealthy or by gaining an office or something of that sort, yet when your final account comes up for settlement you will find that some kindly, although trifling act, outweighs them altogether.

Wholesome people are best, the same as wholesome food, and are known by the agreeableness of their personality and by their simplicity of thought and manner.

While the sound of the drum catches the ear from afar and draws us by its loudness, it is the soft tones of the lute that linger in our minds and hearts.

If, perchance, the drummer can trill the lute as well, we admire him all the more, but if he can do naught else but beat the drum we can only admire him as a drum beater and we straightway forget him when we have tired of his rub-a-dub-dub and long for kindlier and more heartsome, restful strains.

However, the world demands drum beaters, but it needs must have many more harpists and lute players.

* * * * *

And after all, what hath a man gained who has won fame and lost the comradeship of his fellows? He is as a drum, rather than as a drummer and is beaten and thumped for the sake of the noise he may make. His greatness is as fleeting as the sound of his voice and his personality is lost in the grave.

When the achievements of President Roosevelt shall have become mere matters of history and interesting only to scholars, his kindly greeting to the dying senator will still be fresh in the hearts of the people. And so, when the fame of Senator Hanna, as a man of wealth, has been forgotten, his answer, "You've touched a tender spot, old man," will still be answering that friendly hail, "My dear old fellow."

Nay, not for fame, but for the Right;
To make this fair world fairer still,
Or lordly lily of a night,
Or sun-topped tower of a hill,
Or high or low, or near or far,
Or dull or keen, or bright or dim,
Or blade of grass, or brightest star,
All, all are but the same to Him.

O pity of the strife for place;
O pity of the strife for power;
How scarred, how marred a mountain's face;
How fair the fair face of a flower,
The blade of grass beneath your feet,
The bravest sword: sy, braver far,
To do and die in mute defeat,
Thou bravest Conqueror of war.

When I am dead say this, but this:
He grasped at no man's blade or shield,
Or banner bore, but homeless,
Alone, unknown, he held the field;
He held the field with saber drawn,
Where God had set him in the fight,
He held the field, fought on and on,
And so fell fighting for the Right.
—Joaquin Miller.

Talked of in Gotham

GEORGE C. JENKS.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, May 3.—Whatever may be the opinion of the average New Yorker as to the propriety of baseball playing on Sunday, he is not likely to find fault with the complaint of Supreme Justice Caynor that the police are in the habit of setting themselves above the law. It is a way the police have in New York. Here are Justice Gaynor's own words: "Men and women are being arrested daily on charges which the courts have decided over and over again do not constitute any criminal offense. It cannot be too often said to those who rule the police that our government, like all free governments, is a government of laws, and not of man. Those who turn it into one of men, and not of laws, the more dangerous to society than any other class of lawbreakers, or all other lawbreakers combined."

This is from a justice of the supreme court of New York. But yesterday it was recalled that Alexander Williams, formerly a captain of police, who terrorized not only criminals and disturbers, but decent citizens as well, with his heavy club and his readiness to use it on defenseless heads, once said that there was "more law in a policeman's nightstick than in a supreme court decision." The dictum of that official bully is accepted today by a majority of the police force of New York, and it is not safe for an ordinary citizen to protest against any act of high-handed cruelty by a policeman in the streets, no matter how flagrant it may be. Two or three days ago a policeman in the Bowery was hammering a helpless intoxicated man into unconsciousness. Someone near him cried that it was "a shame." Instantly the policeman turned to the bystanders, demanding to know who had dared to criticise him and threatening to club the speaker. He did not find out, so he resumed his banging at his prisoner. These are not uncommon cases in New York. Naturally, for the Bowery policeman was not even reprimanded by his superiors. A policeman who clubbed nearly to death a 19-year-old boy in Brooklyn was today held by the magistrate, however.

Rush to Museum of Art.

When the doors of the Metropolitan Museum of Art in Central park were thrown open to the public today, after two weeks of spring housecleaning, there was almost a rush to get in. Full of interest as the museum always is the fact that the most notable collection of jades in the world was to be shown attracted persons who have a connoisseur's appreciation of these precious bits of nephrite, and many learned comments could be heard as specimen after specimen was inspected. The collection is that of the late Heber R. Bishop, which he presented to the museum shortly before his death.

Money Not Their Only Charm.

Those fair school teachers who have complained to the president of the board of education that they are beset by offers of marriage since the abolishing of the by-law forbidding matrimony seem to be lacking in a proper appreciation of their own personal attractiveness. The grievance of the teachers is that the men who offer marriage are thinking only of the young women's salaries. Why the teachers should think their money is the only charm they have for wooers is not clear. New York, like any other American city, is rather proud of the standard of womanly beauty and accomplishments maintained by its school teachers, and resents the idea. Meanwhile, Superintendent Maxwell of the board of education is trying to make up his mind what advice to give. He feels inclined to let nature take its course.

Could Not Drive Him Away.

People who know Russell Sage laugh stridently at the threat of his physician that if his tax assessment is not reduced, he may go somewhere else to live. You could not pry "Uncle Russell" out of Manhattan with Archimedes' lever. He hates to pay taxes on $2,000,000 worth of personality, but it would be the death of him to venture existence more than a half hour's journey from Wall street. The assessment will have to stand because it is too late to change it, and Russell Sage will continue to sleep in Fifth avenue.

McClellan Bears It Calmly.

Mayor McClellan sat calmly in his office in city hall today as intimates dropped in now and then to congratulate him because Indiana Democrats had declared him to be the right man for president of the United States. It is not easy to disturb the placidity of the young mayor. He knows that Indiana is full of old soldiers who served under his father, "Little Mac," in the earlier sixties and he takes their loyalty to the name of McClellan as a matter of course.

Mrs. Carnegie's Gift Appreciated.

There is bustle in the new quarters of the Models' club, No. 224 West Fifty-eighth street, which is the gift of Mrs. Andrew Carnegie. It is a handsome brownstone building, wherein will be plenty of accommodation for artists' models to rest and refresh themselves and which will also be open for their employers, the artists, with decorous restrictions. Although this new address is a long way from Washington square, for generations the center of the art zone, there have been occasional painters and sculptors in the vicinity of Fifty-eighth street for years. They were only sporadic, however. The establishment of the Models' club probably means that Manhattan will move its Quartier Latin bodily northward some 50 blocks. Thus do art, commerce and pleasure all move toward the Polar star by way of Central park.

Marie Dressler's Collision.

Marie Dressler ran against an "L" road pillar yesterday. It jarred the elevated railroad, but Miss Dressler, well known to Pittsburghers as the heavyweight comedienne who laughs as she makes others laugh and who gaily defied one of the worst attacks of typhoid fever ever in New York a few months ago, was able to continue on her way to a theater where she was engaged to sing, and where she did her "turn" without a quiver, so far as the audience could see. Miss Dressler is in some sense a Pittsburgh protege, for it was at the Alvin theater some years ago that she made her first big hit in a comic opera, of which another woman was the star. It may be mentioned that when she hit the "L" pillar she was in an automobile.

New York Full of Soldiers.

New York is full of soldiers. They are not all American soldiers, either, for the military tournament in Madison Square garden offers variety and has invited some regiments of Canadians to take part. Thus, in the streets, one may see infantrymen, cavalrymen, sailors, one may see Canadian "kilties" in their kilts and bare knees and jaunty caps cocked over one eye, artillerymen and representatives of national guard regiments ad lib. The proceedings in the garden keep them occupied for a few hours every afternoon and evening, but they find time to promenade Broadway and the general effect is that of a European city, where showy uniforms are so common that they are hardly noticed.

Strawberries Getting Cheap.

Strawberries are becoming cheaper in New York. There is an immense crop ripening and if the warm weather continues there will most likely be excellent berries in the market at 10 cents a box. Provisions as a whole are keeping down to reasonable figures. All that is required to prevent their taking an uncomfortable jump upward is sunshine and not too much rain. This is all official, for it comes direct from keepers of stalls in Washington market.

Cleaning Panama

L. W. STRAYER.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, May 3.—Extermination of mosquitoes and the purification of the water supply is in general the outline of the plan of campaign that will be adopted for the cleaning of the Panama canal strip. Working upon these lines, the health officers of the government believe they will be able to keep the sanitary conditions on the isthmus up to a high standard.

When the Panama canal commission meets tomorrow for the first time since its return from the isthmus, Col. W. C. Gorgas, the yellow fever expert, will submit a report with recommendations for the sanitation of the canal zone. His recommendations will be concurred in by Maj. Lasarde, Chairman Gillette and Dr. Ross, whom the government sent along with the commission on its inspection tour of the isthmus. The doctors are unanimous in the belief that the canal strip can be made healthy and sanitary and they believe that the way to do it is to kill off the mosquitoes and purify the water supply.

To exterminate the mosquitoes, it is intended to have all the stagnant pools of water filled up and the use of barrels and open cisterns as receptacles for water done away with. All places that are breeding holes for mosquitoes will be prohibited and in this way the supply of the insects will be reduced to a minimum.

The country does not present any special inducement to malaria, according to the opinion of the doctors. There are mountains and high grounds upon which the workmen can build their houses and it is not necessary for them to live near the marshes or swamps. At present many of the natives are inoculated with malaria and it will be necessary to do a certain amount of curative work as well as preventive.

As to the pure water supply, it is proposed to provide that by building a water works system that will supply all the towns and camps from Colon to Panama with water. The plan contemplates the construction of a huge reservoir for fresh water to be supplied from the Chagres river, and service pipes will distribute it abundantly all along the route of the canal.

For the regulation of the health of the canal zone, it is proposed to establish at Panama and at Colon a board of health, similar to those organized in Cuba, these boards to have general supervision of quarantine and sanitary rules. The strip is to be divided up into 17 sections, or sanitary camps, in each of which will be stationed two or more experts whose duty it will be to see that the regulations of the boards of health are complied with. They will have the authority to enforce the regulations and will be held accountable each for the condition of his camp. All of these recommendations will be made in detail by Col. Gorgas at the meeting of the commission tomorrow and will no doubt be adopted.

Admiral Walker, chairman of the Panama canal commission, had a conference with the president today, at which these and other matters were discussed. The admiral is anxious that the republic of Panama should adopt the financial system of the United States, with gold as a basis. He calls attention to the fact that for many years to come this country will disburse millions of dollars annually in that republic and if it had the same coinage and financial system as the United States it would save much confusion and inconvenience. Panama has not yet adopted a monetary standard and has not built a mint for the coinage of money. The only currency in circulation there is the depreciated money of Colombia.

THE SITUATION SAVED.

Ready Wit of Northern Officer Pulled His Fellows Out of Hole.

It may seem rather trite to go back to civil war times for a story, but all the tales of that memorable time have not been told, and as this one was a personal experience of a relative of mine I can vouch for it. I have never seen it in print nor heard anyone else tell it.

My uncle, Maj. Thomas Ridgely, was a surgeon attached to Gen. Grant's staff. It was after the surrender of Vicksburg. The Union forces had entered the city and much merry-making and entertaining were going on. One night a dinner was in progress at which many northern officers and a large number of southern ladies were present. Many toasts had been proposed and drunk, all of them practically in honor of the successes of the Union army and the men responsible for them.

Finally one of the southern ladies, a great beauty and noted for her intense partisan feeling for the south, arose and said, "Gentlemen, may I propose a toast?"

With natural gallantry and a little trepidation the ranking officer said, "Certainly."

"Well, then, gentlemen, I give you, 'The southern Confederacy.'"

It was an embarrassing situation. But with hardly a moment's hesitation one of the northern officers relieved the tension.

"Down with it, gentlemen," he cried; and the glasses were drained without embarrassment and without disloyalty.—Francis H. Lee in Lippincott's.

Russians Are Queer People.

It is queer that the Japanese version of the sinking of the Kinshiu Maru is on the whole rather more favorable to the Russians than was that given by the Russians. The latter, apparently, had it difficult to foresee the verdict of the world on passing events in which they take part, and their own judgments are peculiar. They preferred, while there was doubt about what sank the Petropavlovsk, to say that their own mines sank her, forgetting that thus they convicted themselves of gross carelessness, and while they were ignorant of the number of fatalities on the Kinshiu Maru, they exaggerated the loss of life instead of minimizing it, and expected thus to win admiration! The Russians do seem to be different from other white men.—New York Times.

Runs Mostly to Words.

A senator, by way of illustration in commenting on the recent speeches of Representative Bourke Cockran in the house, said:

"I remember how the late Speaker Reed was once encountered by a friend in an uptown hotel late in the evening, while the house was in the throes of a terrific tariff debate. It was supposed to be the very crisis of the struggle.

"'How is it,' this gentleman asked of the speaker, 'that you are not at the house and within range of that debate?'

"'Debate,' repeated the speaker contemptuously, 'that's only language—only language,' with which laconic remark he dismissed the subject."—Washington Post.

Panama Awaits the Ghost.

The days draw near in which Panama may experience the unwonted sensation of having money in her pocket with the privilege up to a certain limit of spending it as she likes. Such a condition has hardly been heard of these since the days of Balboa and Las Casas. There may be some danger in too much pap for the little, newborn republic, but everybody will hope that it may thrive under the regime instead of being foundered with it.—New York Tribune.

Lifts Everything But Cups.

Sir Thomas Lipton did not contest in vain for the America's cup. His yachting experience has given him a world reputation. He was entertained on Saturday night by the king and queen of Italy, and was then made a knight commander of the Order of the Crown of Italy. Perhaps this will induce him to make another trial to capture the cup.—Philadelphia Press.

"TECH" SCHOOLS FULLY DESCRIBED

Character of the Structures Needed Is Made Known to the Architects.

FIVE GROUPS ARE SHOWN

Official description of the Carnegie Technical schools in groups, was given yesterday. It shows in more detail than any announcement heretofore the character of the schools and the requirements that must be met by the architects who wish to compete. The statement is issued primarily as a guide to such architects. It follows:

General Description.

In order that the competing architects may express in their designs the purpose for which these buildings are erected and design them with such respect to their utility and adaptability as may insure efficiency in operation and construction, this description is compiled and herewith given to the competing architects:

Administrative Group.

The administrative group should be so designed and so house the executive department of the institution, make provision for general development of the students and provide an auditorium for the assemblage of the entire school.

School of Applied Science.

This group must be designed to admit later to the needs of a school of applied science, operating for both day and night students and for the training of young men over 17 years old, during periods of two or three years for the colleges as draughtsmen, inspectors, foremen, engineers' assistants and numerous other positions above those of the skilled mechanic, and where intelligence and technical information are more essential than manual dexterity.

In this school a large part of the instruction will be given in laboratories, draughting rooms, etc., the shop instruction being included in the above.

To make this instruction thorough and effective the entire equipment must be of the most modern type. The machinery and appliances should be of such a character and so used that an economic use of both labor and material can best be demonstrated in a similar manner to that found in the competitive shops.

In the arrangement of the class rooms, laboratories and shops of this group, the principal objects sought should be close correlation.

For Apprentices and Journeymen.

This group should be adapted for night instruction of students. The school for apprentices and journeymen will offer a system of instruction for the further education of apprentices already at work in the trade, who will receive at night technical and theoretical information, coupled with a fair amount of practical demonstration necessary for their ultimate advancement into the ranks of skilled mechanics. The object of this night instruction being to supplement the daily practical experience, but it must not be supposed that this school group will in any sense endeavor to turn out skilled mechanics.

The students upon completing this course, supplemented by their daily apprenticeship, would necessarily continue to serve the balance of their time in commercial operations prior to their being ranked as skilled mechanics. This school group will have in addition for its purpose the education and training of those mechanics in the building and manufacturing trades, who are already at work as journeymen, giving them an opportunity to supplement their daily trade intellectual powers, so that they may relatively keep in advance of the apprentice and find a wider opportunity for their skill, experience and knowledge which subsequently will insure to them further advancement to positions, such as foremen, superintendents, master mechanics, etc.

The course of the school for apprentices and journeymen will be so arranged that the students will have an opportunity to acquire familiarity with materials, knowledge of the basic principals employed, knowledge of mechanical drawings, elements of physics and chemistry and familiarity with new materials and the most modern tools.

The instruction must be accurately based on the standard demanded in the skilled labor market, and must therefore be so adjusted to conform to the changing conditions demanded in the various industries, consequent upon the use of new material, new methods or improvements in construction.

The shops, laboratories and class rooms required for this school group must therefore be equipped in the most complete manner, so that the practical as well as the theoretical part of the instruction may be at all times closely related to the best practice in commercial work. The arrangement between the shops, class rooms and drawing rooms should be so designed as to permit the closest possible correlation between the sections.

Technical School for Women.

This group should be designed to house a technical school for women, giving instruction to both day and evening schools. The school will be strictly practical in character and will have for its principal aim the training of women to earn their livelihood. Its purpose will be to give to them technical training, or special skill in various subjects specified, which will increase that earning power.

It will offer courses of two grades.

First: Short courses of the trade character for those of comparatively limited natural ability and previous intellectual training, to enable them in the shortest possible time to become skilled workers.

Second: Longer and more technical courses for mature women with more intellectual attainments, to fit them for more responsible and remunerative positions. These courses will be about three years in length.

Those will be needed in this school, for the practical instruction which is planned, well equipped kitchens, laundries, etc.; work rooms for millinery, dressmaking, etc., and special laboratories or shops carefully designed for the purposes which are indicated. These equipments and rooms should be designed in accordance with the best precedents found in hospitals, hotels and commercial establishments.

The evening instruction will be of the same practical character as that given in the day courses.

School of Applied Design.

This school should be designed to accommodate classes in the design, technique and mechanical processes of the art industries specified. The purpose of the school will be to train skilled workers, as well as designers, who are familiar with the technical requirements of these industries.

There will be needed to accomplish this purpose well-equipped work rooms, where the students can apply their designs which they have created, under conditions closely resembling those that they will later find in commercial work of like character. The principal part of the instruction will be of this practical character.

There will be given in this school instruction in both day and evening classes.

Director Arthur A. Hamerschlag will go to Philadelphia tonight to consult with Prof. W. P. Laird, the advisory architect.

COUNCILMEN TO ATTEND FUNERAL IN A BODY

Special Session Held to Take Action on Death of James Reed.

Members of common council met in special session yesterday afternoon to take action on the death of Councilman James Reed of the Thirty-second ward, who died suddenly in Philadelphia on Monday morning, having been a member of the delegation that inspected the filtration plants there. In the absence of President R. B. Ward, A. G. Roenigk presided.

On motion of William Brand a committee of five was appointed to draft resolutions. The members, William Brand, D. J. Boie, John Bergmann, C. W. Helmold and John Lewis reported an appropriate resolution, which was adopted.

Brand's motion that an engrossed copy be sent to the family of the deceased and be spread upon the minutes was adopted. The clerk was directed to procure a floral emblem for the funeral, and to have Mr. Reed's desk draped in black for 30 days. It was decided that the members of common council should attend the funeral services at 62 Greenbush street tonight at 8 o'clock in a body, and to meet at Grant at the city hall.

The interment will take place at Kittanning, Pa., tomorrow, and a committee consisting of John F. Semmelrock, John Lewis, George F. Crommlier, William Brand and John Bergmann will accompany the remains.

Mr. Brand delivered the principal eulogy, speaking in feeling terms of the deceased member, of the shock of his sudden death to his friends and colleagues in councils, his honesty, sensibility and loyalty to his constituents. Remarks were also made by D. J. Boie, A. M. Barr and John F. Semmelrock.

SOUTH SIDE BOND BILL IS BURIED

Ordinance for Purchase of Monongahela Water Works Shelved by Committee.

SALARY INCREASES REFUSED

The Semmelrock ordinance authorizing the issue of $3,000,000 bonds for the purchase of the Monongahela water works, was shelved yesterday by the finance committee of councils, in accordance with the program previously arranged by the city administration. Upon motion of Joseph Zeuger the bill was sent to a special sub-committee and its advocates do not expect to hear from the ordinance again within the term of the present councils. The sub-committee appointed to keep the bill in retirement consists of Joseph Zeuger, Richard McNally and C. S. Gallagher, all Bigelow councilmen.

"While the action of the finance committee was not unexpected, it is a disappointment to the South Side," said John F. Semmelrock, the author of the measure. "It means that the South Side is to be given no consideration whatever by the administration."

City employes asking for salary increases are having a hard time. The sub-committee appointed to consider a number of bills providing for increases made a report to the finance committee, disapproving the applications of the chief clerk in the controller's office, bookkeeper in the general office of department of public safety, the chief plumbing inspector, elevator operators in the public safety building, chief clerk and stenographer in the mayor's office, medical examiner in the department of public safety and hydrant inspectors.

Said Mayor Was Angry.

C. W. Helmold, chairman of the committee, said that after the sub-committee had approved a number of the bills last week the members had been called into consultation with the mayor.

"The mayor was aggrieved," said Helmold, "because he had not been consulted by the employes of his office before they had asked councils for increases of salary, and he said that it had been agreed with the heads of the departments that councils should not grant any increase unless first approved by the mayor or heads of department. Our committee does not wish to take the responsibility, and for this reason I presented, at the last meeting of common council, the resolution requiring the consent first of the mayor and departments."

Chirman D. J. Boie of the finance committee said that he thought E. J. Phelps, chief clerk in the controller's office, ought to get an increase. Phelps asked that his salary be raised from $2,000 to $3,000.

Helmold said that Controller Larkin had authorized Assistant Controller E. S. Morrow to make a statement in regard to Phelps' application.

"I have heard the controller say several times that Mr. Phelps ought to have $2,500," said Mr. Morrow.

A motion was then made that Phelps' ordinance be sent back to the sub-committee to secure the indorsement of the controller.

Wanted All Treated Alike.

Richard McNally protested that Phelps alone should not be favored and he demanded that the other ordinances should also be sent back to the sub-committee, instead of being negatively recommended to councils. Accompanying these ordinances were a dozen or more other ordinances of the same character, including that of the police magistrates and the clerk at the Central police station.

The finance committee affirmatively recommended the ordinance re-establishing the positions of two messengers or clerks in the bureau of viewers, at $75 a month each, it being explained that these positions were already filled.

The ordinance authorizing the sale to Walter Butler of the Nineteenth ward of a strip of land 10 feet wide and about 90 feet long at Euclid avenue and Bryant street, for $250, had been returned to the finance committee by common council. Select Councilman C. H. West asked permission to speak to the committee on the bill. He said that the 10-foot strip remained when Euclid avenue had been opened and adjoined Butler's property, which he proposed to sell and that it was necessary to get this strip to give a frontage on Euclid avenue before Butler could make the sale.

West thought that it would not be right to put the property up at public sale and permit some other person to acquire it by paying the city $200 or $400 just to "squeeze" Butler. The committee, however, held that it was the council's duty to get the best price for the property and upon motion of John Taylor, of the Twenty-first ward, the property was ordered to be sold at public auction.

The finance committee authorized the controller to advertise the $1,122,278 bond issue for the payment of judgments against the city, in the New York, Chicago, Boston and Pittsburgh newspapers for 10 days prior to May 20, when the bids will be opened.

Resolutions by Ward Committee.

The Republican executive committee of the Thirty-second ward last night adopted resolutions upon the death of Common Councilman James Reed, praising him for an upright citizen, a stanch friend and a loyal party worker. It was voted to send an engrossed copy of the resolutions to Mr. Reed's sister. The resolutions were signed by C. Milner Brown, chairman, and George H. Waggoner, secretary.

CATHOLIC ORDER GROWS RAPIDLY

Successful State Convention of the Knights of Columbus in Pittsburgh.

UNIQUE RELIGIOUS SERVICES

With the knowledge that they have a surplus of over a million dollars in their national treasury and a rapidly-increasing membership, the sixth annual state convention of the Knights of Columbus in the Bijou building yesterday was highly successful. Sixty-one councils in the state, represented by 120 delegates, were in attendance. The next convention will be held in Wilkesbarre.

The old officers with one or two exceptions were re-elected as follows: State deputy, P. H. Lynch, Philadelphia; state secretary, Joseph T. McDevitt, Philadelphia; state treasurer, R. J. Bourke, Scranton; state advocate, J. E. McDonogh, Chester; state warden, John T. Brew, Erie; state physician, Dr. M. F. Creavan, Pittsburgh; state chaplain, the Rt. Rev. Regis Canevin, Pittsburgh; state lecturer, A. S. McSwigan, Pittsburgh; delegates to the national convention in Louisville, P. J. McNulty, F. J. Lanahan, Pittsburgh; J. P. Connelly, Philadelphia, and Charles J. Reilly, Williamsport.

State Deputy Lynch reported nine new councils organized during the year—at Reading, Norristown, Harrisburg, York, Lancaster, Hanover, Philadelphia, Girardville and Hawley. Councils are now being formed at Crafton, Washington, Butler, Franklin, Clarion, Warren, Greenville, Blossburg, Tamaqua, Lebanon, Latrobe, Nanticoke, Plymouth and Sayre. In Philadelphia there is being formed a council composed exclusively of Germans, and another of Italians. The total membership in the state is 8,883, an increase of 1,786 since last year. The total membership of the order is 110,203, an increase of over 17,000 during the year. The total receipts of the order for the year were $535,715 76, and the disbursements $527,498 08. The order has a surplus of $1,018,770 01. The total number of councils is 812.

Preceding the convention delegates and visitors were escorted to St. Mary's church, Third avenue and Ferry street, where services were held at 11 o'clock. Mass was read by the Rev. Father Thomas Walsh, chaplain of Duquesne council. During it the Knights of Columbus choir, under the direction of Theodore Heyl, sang hymns. An unusual feature of the mass was the singing of "Onward, Christian Soldier," and "Holy God, We Praise Thy Name," by the entire congregation. At the conclusion of the mass the Rt. Rev. Regis Canevin made an address on the good work being done by the order in counteracting the growth of anarchy and socialism.

During the afternoon session of the convention the ladies' auxiliary, being the delegates were given a trolley ride through the East End and park districts. On account of the reception at Syria temple Monday evening, and the jubilee exercises of Bishop Phinan today which many of the delegates will attend, there was no formal entertainment last night.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 3.—Terming smokeless powder a power not fully understood by those who use it on American warships, or those who manufacture it, Rear Admiral Barker, commander-in-chief of the North Atlantic squadron, has approved the finding of the court of inquiry in the explosion of the battleship Missouri, on April 13. He further declares that under existing circumstances the limit in quick firing of great guns has been reached, because of the danger of "flare backs," like that which caused the death of 50 officers and men on the Missouri.

The findings, which give praise, not blame, to those who lost their lives and those who survived, were made public at the navy department today. In part the court said:

The following named officers and men are worthy of particular mention under the head of extraordinary heroism: Acting Gunner R. B. Cox, M. Monsen, chief gunner's mats, and C. S. Schepke, gunner's mate, first class, and the following are deserving of especial commendation: Capt. W. S. Cowles, Lieutenant Commander J. M. Orchard, Lieut. Cleland Davis, Lieut. W. P. Scott, Lieut. Ralph Earle, Lieut. A. W. Marshall, Ensign E. C. Bamner (of the United States steamship Cleveland), Midshipman A. G. Caffee, M. Higgins, chief boatswain's mate; G. Crofton, chief machinist; E. E. Elliott, master-at-arms, second class (died from the effects of poisonous gases inhaled in work of rescue); G. Brewster, gun captain, first class; C. Holm, seaman; S. C. Burgess, ship fitter, first class; W. Gibbons, coxswain; B. Johnson, gunner's mate, first class; J. M. McDade, ordinary seaman, and W. S. Wells, ordinary seaman. That there others who deserve special commendation appears clear to the court, but the court is unable to establish their identity.

THOUSANDS HAVE KIDNEY TROUBLE AND DON'T KNOW IT

To Prove What Swamp-Root, the Great Kidney Remedy Will Do for YOU, Every Reader of The Gazette May Have a Sample Bottle Sent Free by Mail.

Weak and unhealthy kidneys are responsible for more sickness and suffering than any other disease, therefore, when through neglect or other causes, kidney trouble is permitted to continue, fatal results are sure to follow.

Your other organs may need attention—but your kidneys most, because they do most and need attention first.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, because as soon as your kidneys begin to get better they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root, the great kidney and bladder remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures in the most distressing cases. Swamp-Root will set your whole system right, and the best proof of this is a trial.

53 Cottage St., Melrose, Mass., January 11, 1904.

Dear Sir:—

"Ever since I was in the army I had more or less kidney trouble, and within the past year it became so severe and complicated that I suffered everything and was much alarmed—my strength and power was fast leaving me. I saw an advertisement of Swamp-Root and wrote asking for advice. I began the use of the medicine and noted a decided improvement after taking Swamp-Root only a short time.

"I continued its use and am thankful to say that I am entirely cured and strong. In order to be very sure about this I had a doctor examine some of my water today and he pronounced it all right and in splendid condition.

"I know that your Swamp-Root is purely vegetable and does not contain any harmful drugs. Thanking you for my wonderful recovery and recommending Swamp-Root to all sufferers I am, very truly yours,

"T. C. RICHARDSON."

You may have a sample bottle of this famous kidney remedy, Swamp-Root, sent free by mail, postpaid, by which you may test its virtues for such disorders as kidney, bladder and uric acid diseases, poor digestion, being obliged to pass your water frequently night and day, smarting or irritation in passing, brick-dust or sediment in the urine, headache, backache, lame back, dizziness, sleeplessness, nervousness, heart disturbance, due to bad kidney trouble; skin eruptions from bad blood, neuralgia, rheumatism, diabetes, bloating, irritability, lemon feeling, lack of ambition, loss of flesh, sallow complexion or Bright's disease.

If your water, when allowed to remain undisturbed in a glass or bottle for 24 hours, forms a sediment or settling, or has a cloudy appearance, it is evidence that your kidneys and bladder need immediate attention.

Swamp-Root is the great discovery of Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist. Hospitals use it with wonderful success in both slight and severe cases. Doctors recommend it to their patients and use it in their own families, because they recognize in Swamp-Root the greatest and most successful remedy.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is for sale at drug stores the world over in bottles of two sizes and two prices—fifty cents and one dollar. Remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

EDITORIAL NOTE.—So successful is Swamp-Root in promptly curing even the most distressing cases of kidney, liver or bladder troubles, that to prove its wonderful merits you may have a sample bottle and a book of valuable information, both sent absolutely free by mail. The book contains many of the thousands upon thousands of testimonial letters received from men and women cured. The value and success of Swamp-Root is so well known that our readers are advised to send for a sample bottle. In sending your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure to say you read this generous offer in The Pittsburgh Daily Gazette. The proprietors of this paper guarantee the genuineness of this offer.

JOLLY GRASS WIDOWS

USED TWO GUNS TO SHOOT WIFE

John Wright, Crazed With Jealousy, Fatally Wounds Pretty Young Woman.

STRUGGLE FOR A REVOLVER

John Wright, aged 32, shot and fatally wounded his pretty wife Nellie, aged 27, in their rooms at 1706 Tustin street, shortly after 7 o'clock last night. Wright is under arrest at the Central police station and his wife is at the Mercy hospital in a dying condition. Jealousy was the motive of the shooting.

Wright and his wife lodged with Mrs. Mary Speicher. Wright is a carriage maker. After he finished work last night he went home but his wife was out. This angered Wright and he told Mrs. Speicher he suspected his wife had grown tired of him and was seeking the companionship of others.

Later Mrs. Wright returned home, and with her husband she went to their room. Wright went to his trunk and got a revolver.

"I will kill you and end it all," he said to her.

The husband and wife struggled with each other and the woman took the revolver from him.

"I have another," cried the enraged husband.

With this he went to the closet and got another revolver.

Mrs. Wright fled from the room to the stairway. Her husband followed. On the stairway he fired two shots at her. Both bullets missed. Taking deliberate aim, Wright fired the third shot. The bullet entered her right lung. Mrs. Wright fell headlong down the stairway.

Mrs. Speicher heard the shots and rushing into the street summoned Policemen Frank Wickman and George Kicber. They found Wright standing at an open window coolly smoking a toby. He declared that he was the man they were looking for and they took him in custody. The revolver he had used could not be found, but it was said to be of 32-caliber. It was thought Wright had thrown it out of the window, but the officers searched the rear yard without finding it.

Mrs. Wright was taken to the hospital, where the physicians pronounced her wounds fatal. Wright regretted his violent act when placed in a cell and said he was crazed with jealousy when he fired upon his wife.

DELEGATES ARRIVING FOR M. E. CONFERENCE

Pouring Into Los Angeles—Pavilion Opened by a Sacred Concert.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

LOS ANGELES, CAL., May 3.—Delegates to the thirty-first Methodist General conference are pouring into Los Angeles by hundreds. Sixteen special trains, 12 over the Santa Fe and four over the Southern Pacific, arrived today. In addition to the delegates that will arrive on the specials, many are coming in on the regular trains.

Among the late prominent arrivals is Rev. Dr. James M. King, secretary of the board of church extension, who succeeded to that office during the last quadrennial through the death of Dr. W. A. Spencer and probably will be elected to his present position by the coming conference. Another man high in the counsels of the church is Rev. Dr. John Krantz, sales agent of the Methodist Book Concern, and with him is Dr. Diamond of Cincinnati, a prominent member of the book committee. Rev. Dr. Charles W. Dress, superintendent of missions in Porto Rico, and Rev. Dr. Charles L. Mead of Hoboken also are among the arrivals.

Hazard's pavilion, where the general conference will hold its sessions, was thrown open to the delegates and visitors for the first time tonight, when a grand sacred concert was rendered by a large orchestra and chorus of 300 voices.

SALARIES HELD UP.

Controller Brown of Allegheny Will Not Pay Warrants of Organist and Librarian.

Controller James Brown of Allegheny yesterday refused to pay the warrants of Organist Caspar P. Koch and Librarian Edward E. Eggers. Neither is eligible to hold city positions, according to Brown, and he declares he will not pay the warrants unless ordered to by the courts. Organist Koch has not yet been paid for March.

Librarian Eggers took office on the first of last month and applied yesterday for his first warrant. He was told that as he was not a resident of Allegheny for six months prior to his appointment his name could not lawfully be put upon the city pay-roll.

Director McIlvain called at the controller's office with Eggers and asked for an explanation from Brown. The latter said he did not wish it to appear that he was opposing the director in any way, but if McIlvain insisted in appointing nonresidents to positions in his department, he could expect nothing else than that their warrants would be held up. Director McIlvain went away angry and declared he would find some means to compel Controller Brown to pay the salaries of Koch and Eggers.

TO COOK FOR SCHWAB.

Girls of Homestead School Practicing to Cater for Founder's Day.

The senior class of girls of the Charles M. Schwab industrial school, Homestead, are daily practicing the culinary art under the direction of Miss Roberta Morgan. Founder's day, the first anniversary of the dedication of the school, is to take place on the 16th of this month. Mr. Schwab and his wife are to attend and the senior class of girls is to prepare a dinner for the guests. Last year the class did it so efficiently that Mr. Schwab, in recognition of their ability to cook, sent the whole class of 20 to Atlantic City for 10 days, paying all expenses and providing them with his private car, therefore the industry.

Miss Lawton, art instructor, is preparing an elaborate display of drawings, paintings, paper cutting, cardboard work, bookbinding and crayon work, while an exceptionally fine exhibition of needlework has been prepared by the sewing class under Miss Roberta Morgan. Ironwork, steel work and carpentering by the boys will be a feature. A boy's chorus and a mixed chorus are rehearsing daily. The graduation gowns of the girl seniors will be of their own handiwork.

APOLLO CLUB ELECTION.

Popular Musical Organization Getting in Shape for Its 11th Season.

The Apollo club has elected the following officers and committees for the season of 1904-5: President, R. L. Gallcher; vice president, George F. Wagner; secretary-treasurer, Dr. E. M. Davis, re-elected; librarian, Oscar F. Swope, re-elected; executive committee: John R. Roberts, Dr. A. St. Matheny and Dr. G. O. Challiner; music committee: C. C. Rinehart, D. J. Hicks, H. M. Laible and C. S. Bogg.

Richart Mayer was re-elected conductor, a position he has held since the club's organization, 10 years ago. In token of the appreciation in which his services are held by all of the high record the Apollo club has for him, Mr. Mayer has been presented with a handsome silver service.

Plans are now under way for an extra concert some time this month for the benefit of the family of a deceased member, whose death, by a sad coincidence, occurred on the day of the last concert given by the club. This member was one of the organizers of the club. Had he lived he would have been placed on the honorary role at the beginning of the next season. Plans are also under way for the regular season of 1904-1905, during which the club hopes to excel its previous accomplishments, and will leave nothing undone to give concerts of a character befitting the generous support it has received during the past 10 years.

WOODEND SURRENDERS TO NEW YORK POLICE

Broker Says He Will Make a Statement Which Will Clear Him.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, May 3.—Dr. W. E. Woodend, of the W. E. Woodend & Company, the suspended stock brokerage firm, was arrested at his home in this city today.

The police had been searching for Woodend several days, a warrant being issued against him charging grand larceny. Today the district attorney's office received a phone message from John H. Warner, Woodend's attorney, saying that Woodend was at his home and ready to surrender himself. A detective sergeant went to the house and placed him under arrest. Woodend said he had not been far away from New York. He returned home, he said, because Sunday he read in the newspapers that he had been accused of grand larceny. Woodend was held in $5,000 for a hearing Thursday. He is charged by E. H. Goodwyn, of Petersburg, Va., with the larceny of $8,600.

While in the court room Dr. Woodend said: "I will make a statement later that will clear me of the charges made against me. That is all I will say now."

The safes in the offices of Woodend & Company were opened today by a representative of Receiver Gruber, but little of value was found.

MUIRHEAD AGAIN ARRESTED; ROTHSCHILD IS INDICTED

More Trouble for Former Globe Security and the Associated Bank Officials.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, May 3.—William Muirhead, former president of the Globe Security Company, was arrested today for the second time as a result of his connection with the suspended Security company.

The complainant in this case is Max Kaplan, a manufacturer of artificial flowers, who alleges that on February 15, 1904, he borrowed $300 from the Globe Security Company, which he agreed to pay back with $12 a month interest. In two months, he alleges, he paid $324 to the Security company, and that he made demand for the note he had given, but that it was not returned to him. Yesterday Kaplan alleges, he received a letter from the First National bank of Montoursville, Pa., saying that the bank held the note and demanding payment. The grand jury today returned two additional indictments against David Rothschild, former president of the defunct Federal bank, and connected with the Globe Security Company. Four indictments are now pending against the entangled financier, who is still imprisoned in the Tombs through his inability to secure the $25,000 bail under which he is held. The two indictments returned today, charging grand larceny in the first degree, are based on accommodation notes which, it is alleged, Rothschild obtained, one from Henry J. Benjamin, for $5,000 on January 15 last, and the other from Henry D. Nessler, for $10,000 January 7 last. An application today for a reduction of Rothschild's bail was refused.

CHOSE THE MANAGERS.

Monongahela Water Company Stockholders Did Not Discuss Sale.

No discussion of the proposed sale of the Monongahela Water Company to the city came up at the annual meeting yesterday. The same board of managers was elected, with the exception of J. D. Lyon succeeding Daniel McKee. The other managers are Mark W. Watson (president), B. F. Jones, Joseph G. Walter, John Moorhead, Jr., A. W. Mellon, James W. Scully, Albert Erwein and J. R. McGinley.

The report of the secretary and general manager, Martin Prenter, showed that during the year there had been pumped 6,257,900,000 gallons of water, an average of 17,400,000 gallons a day. For the improvement of the supply of Mt. Washington and Duquesne Heights two new tanks, 40 feet high and 60 feet in diameter are being built. Of the $350,000 increased stock authorized some time ago, $150,000 has already been spent in the extensions of the system.

The amendment to the by-laws, authorizing the election of a vice president, was adopted.

SHANGHAI, May 3.—The portrait of the dowager empress of China, painted by the American artist, Miss Katie Carl, which left Pekin April 21, was dispatched by the Pacific mail steamer Siberian today. The portrait on arrival at San Francisco will be sent to the St. Louis exposition.

BEHEADED BABE HID IN CEMETERY

Police Searching for the Man Who Left the Body of the Murdered Child.

MINER ACCUSED OF MURDER

With its head severed from its shoulders the body of a female infant, about four months old, was found in the Allegheny cemetery yesterday morning. The head had been cut from the body while alive and then carried to a plot in the cemetery known as section 8, where it was hidden under a bush and covered with a piece of newspaper. The child was evidently born of American parents and from the condition of its skin and body had been carefully nourished and cared for until it was beheaded. Dr. Walter C. McCandless made an examination of the body and said the child was alive when its head was cut off. The physician said there was no doubt of this, as the child's condition had been perfect when it was killed. Police Capt. Peter P. Walsh found two men who saw a man carrying a box into the cemetery Monday morning. They are Michael Millford of 5133 Keystone avenue, and Phillip Bosang of 512 Evergreen avenue, Millvale. They describe the man as being about five feet seven inches tall and weighing about 160 pounds. The man wore a dark blue suit and was about 30 years old. This is the fourth dead infant that has been found within the city limits during the last five months. The others were choked to death.

At the conclusion of the inquest into the death of "Patsy" Pilutia, the Italian coal miner who was shot and killed at Newtown, near Turtle Creek, on Monday night, the coroner's jury recommended that a warrant be issued for the arrest of Dominic Perceilli, also a miner, on a charge of murdering Pilutia. Pilutia was shot during a drunken quarrel in an Italian boarding house conducted at Newtown by Antonio Aiello. Pilutia's body will be buried this morning. It is reported that he had a wife and four children in Italy.

A sad greeting awaits the wife and child of Julius Loubonitz, aged 33, who are now on their way to this country from Poland. While going to his boarding house, at 3329 Mulberry alley, yesterday, the husband was struck by an Allegheny Valley railroad train at the Thirty-fourth street crossing and sustained injuries which resulted in his death at the West Penn hospital an hour later. After working in this city for several years, he was finally able, a month ago, to send for his wife and child, and they are expected to arrive within the next few days.

George Nath, aged 47, of Penn avenue, Mt. Oliver, was instantly killed shortly after 9 o'clock yesterday morning in the yards of the Homestead steel works, where he was a car inspector. Nath was inspecting a string of cars when he slipped and fell under the train.

The body of a man supposed to be that of Charles Plates of Dixmont was found floating in the Ohio river at Emsworth yesterday morning.

Peter Dooney, aged 63, was found dead in bed at his home, 116 Corry street, Allegheny, yesterday morning. Heart disease is thought to have caused death.

Huston Uegella, aged 22, of 307 Harmar street, died at the West Penn hospital yesterday morning of concussion of the brain and fracture of skull. He was injured by a traction car at Penn avenue and Twenty-third street on April 28.

J. F. Mitchell, aged 59, of Scottdale, dropped dead at the home of Mrs. Mary Blaine, in the Butler plank road, Etna, yesterday. He was stopping at Mrs. Blaine's home while on a business visit to this city. His wife and family reside in Scottdale.

MILKMEN WILL GET CHARTER.

Dealers' Association to Be Business Like Hereafter, as Well as Social.

At a meeting at 535 Smithfield street yesterday the directors of the Western Pennnsylvania and Northeastern Ohio Milk Producers' association decided to secure a charter. The association has a membership of about 500 and has heretofore met principally in a social way. The intention is to make the body more business-like, whereupon more uniform prices are to rule in their industry.

So soon as changes are made in the organization an effort will also be made to bring about better care of cans and a prompter return of the property.

Reformed Church to Be Dedicated.

On Sunday, June 19, the new Reformed Church of the Ascension, Termop avenue, Allegheny, will be dedicated with befitting ceremonies. The church will cost $51,000 when completed. The pastor, the Rev. Albert C. Diefenbach, will be assisted at the services by the Rev. William C. Schiedt, D. D., of Lancaster, Pa., and others. The congregation is but a year old. It is reported that an offer of a $5,000 organ from Andrew Carnegie was rejected, the congregation deciding to buy their own instrument at a cost of $2,000.

CHAIRMAN DISPLEASED; COMMITTEE DISCHARGED

Lively Session of Pittsburgh Presbytery Over Boundary Question.

Dr. J. M. Duff, chairman of the committee of five of the Pittsburgh presbytery, appointed to confer with a committee of the synod of Pennsylvania on changing the boundaries of the Pittsburgh presbytery, resigned at the presbytery meeting in the Second Presbyterian church, Pittsburgh, yesterday afternoon, and entered charges that resulted in the discharge of the committee.

Dr. Duff held that the committee had been instructed to inform the conferring committee that presbytery desired no action on the change of boundaries and as two members of his committee favored the change he did not care to act with them.

Dr. Kerr charged that influences were at work outside of the Pittsburgh presbytery, after which Dr. Duff moved the discharge of the committee. Dr. S. A. Hunter moved the retention of the committee, but the motion was disregarded and another was made by the Rev. S. Edward Young, postponing action until the June session of presbytery. This was lost, and finally the motion of the Rev. O. N. Verner, to discharge the committee, was carried and the clerk was instructed to notify the synodical committee that presbytery desired that no action be taken on the question at present. Moderator Hezlep did not concur in the discharge of the committee and stated that he appointed both factions on the committee to give presbytery equal representation on the issue.

The installation of the Rev. H. D. Ewing as pastor of the West Elizabeth church was fixed for May 17, and the installation of the Rev. F. W. Snyder as pastor of the South Side church for the evening of May 25.

The Rev. Dr. W. L. McEwan criticised the Presbyterian board of publication for not having yet published literature for distribution among the foreigners. The motion of the presbytery, adopted two years ago, had been ignored, although indorsed by the general assembly.

COL. MILLS CHARGED WITH BRUTAL CONDUCT

Retired Army Captain in Controversy With West Point Superintendent.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, May 3.—Charges of "brutal and tyrannical conduct" have been preferred at the war department against Col. Albert L. Mills, superintendent of the United States Military academy at West Point, by Capt. John P. Walker, United States army, retired, who lives in Washington. Capt. Walker recites that he was thus harshly treated by Col. Mills while visiting West Point.

Col. Mills, to whom the charges were forwarded immediately they were filed with the war department, has replied, stating that he considers his drastic treatment of Capt. Walker thoroughly merited by the latter's conduct toward a lady at West Point. At the war department, it was said this afternoon that Capt. Walker's charges were "flighty," that they in no way reflected upon Col. Mills' character. Capt. Walker has hitherto had several controversies with officials in Washington. He has been on the retired list for many years.

ASSESSORS TAKE ACTION.

Send for Decision of Dauphin County Court in Tax Case.

John Lawley, a member of the board of city assessors, said yesterday that a copy of the decision of the Dauphin county court in the case of the city of Harrisburg against the Harrisburg Gas Company, would be secured and be closely examined to ascertain whether the decision can be applied to Pittsburgh. If so, the assessors will make a levy on the real estate of the local public service corporations at once, this real estate now being exempt from taxation.

There seems to be a difference of opinion whether the decision can be applied to Pittsburgh, and the city assessors will obtain an opinion from the solicitor as soon as a copy is received from Harrisburg.

Fire Damaged Two Dwellings.

Fire damaged the dwelling occupied by Mrs. D. M. Scott, at 6815 Frankstown avenue, and that of H. H. Griffin adjoining yesterday morning. The loss on the houses and furniture is placed at $700. Mrs. Scott and J. A. Aurends, a boarder at the Scott house, were awakened by the flames and with the assistance of firemen escaped with only their night clothes. The fire is thought to have originated from a gas burner which had been left burning under the kitchen boiler.

Wouldn't You Kick?

If the Dr. held up his finger at you at breakfast and said: "It's that COFFEE, you know, that causes your stubborn, sick spells and my medicines are useless, fighting against the daily poison to your nerves you take in coffee. You simply cannot get well until you quit coffee, so if you continue to use it we must all consider you like to be sick all day as an exchange for the pleasure of a cup of coffee in the morning."

How We Do Hate Facts

And keep on drinking coffee and enjoying the headaches, stomach and bowel troubles, nervous prostration and the whole train of disorders that follow, after we have used coffee long enough to build in the diseased cells, and when these cells exist we simply cannot be well. We must stop the daily poison of coffee and let good old Dame Nature make new and perfect cells for us.

A Pleasant Way Out

And an almost immediate comfort and relief is to quit coffee absolutely. Have as many more cups of Postum Coffee, but be very sure to know—insist upon knowing that it has been boiled, actual boiling, not less than 15 minutes. Many cooks try to prepare Postum by 5 or 6 minutes boiling, but that will not do. Of course there's no harm in drinking a weak insipid cup of underboiled Postum, but where's the use, when it can be had rich, deep brown, with a decided crisp coffee snap, hot and delicious. Don't let them serve it to you half made. After a day or two you will find (probably to your surprise) that the old sick troubles are better.

That's Your Cue. Follow It.

SOCIETY

A SMART social affair attended by the younger girls yesterday was the hearts party Mrs. Maxwell K. Moorhead gave in honor of Miss Hester MacConnell, who has been visiting Miss Katherine Murdock in St. James street. Miss MacConnell is now the house guest of Miss Narcissa Kennedy at Judge Kennedy's place, "The Oaks," in Wilkins avenue. Judge and Mrs. Kennedy are at Berkeley Springs, where they went last week.

At Mrs. Moorhead's hearts party there were just enough guests to surround four tables. They were: Miss MacConnell, Miss Katherine Murdock, Miss Florence Murdock, Miss Bessie Hawkins, Miss Charlotte Kennedy, Miss Elizabeth Sellers, Miss Helen Ferguson, Miss Helen Macbeth, Miss Emily Moorhead, Miss Alice Pennock, Miss Ethel Byram, Miss Margaret Chislett, Miss Alberta Harper, Mrs. Randel Moorhead, Miss Emily Lyon and Mrs. Ross Millard.

The tables were placed in the drawing room and library, each room being decorated with daffodils and lilies. The scores were kept by means of little green and yellow ribbons bearing the initials of the hostess, and for prizes there were dainty little Japanese tea pots in the prevailing colors and silver picture frames. The winners were Miss MacConnell, Miss Kennedy, Miss Macbeth, Miss Ferguson, Miss Pennock, Miss Lyon, Miss Harper and Miss Chislett. Miss MacConnell will remain with Miss Narcissa Kennedy the rest of this week and will then go back to Miss Murdock for a few days. Miss Henrietta Moorhead is arranging to give a luncheon for her some time next week.

Miss MacConnell and Miss Narcissa Kennedy shared the honors at a little informal card party which Mrs. Edward Hamia Small gave at her home in North Negley avenue last evening. The game was pit and there were three tables. The invitations were issued by telephone and the affair was very informally conducted with a pretty prize for each table.

School-girls Rehearsing Plays.

The girls in the dramatic classes of Miss Oheim's school in South Negley avenue, East End, are rehearsing two little plays which they will shortly present under the direction of Miss Helen Arundel, their teacher. Friday, May 13, has been spoken of as the date for the presentation, which will be only for the girls of that school. The first play, "A Box of Monkeys," will be given with the following cast: Chauncey Oglethorpe, Miss Louise Mitchell; Cherie Bengaline, Miss Ruth Edwards; Mr. Bodego Bouse, Miss Adele Guckenheimer; Lady Gunlyere, Miss Dorothy Leech; Edward Ralston, Miss Charity Packer; "My Lord in Livery" is the title of the second play, the cast for which will include: Lord Tuthmore, Miss Helen Watson; Sybil, Miss Elizabeth Lauer; Miss Kate Sperry Rose, Miss Clara Morris; Hopkins, the footman, Miss Margaret Bigger; Spiggot, the butler, Miss Phallo Gruver; the page, Miss Rachel Chandler. The girls have again taken up their hockey games for the season and have organized two teams whose colors are red and yellow. Miss Elizabeth Stewart and Miss Helen Watson are the captains. The girls from Miss Oheim's school, Miss Christine Arbuckle, Miss Caroline Reed and Miss Irene Kaufmann, will take the Bryn Mawr examinations, which open this year May 25. Miss Margaret Ramill will take the Harvard examination for Radcliffe, and Miss Agnes Donahue the examination of the central board of education in Pittsburgh. The two French instructors at the school will spend the summer abroad, Mlle. de Rompaz sailing on June 1 for Paris and Mlle. Thayer sailing five days later for Venice.

Luncheon for Two Honor Guests.

Mrs. John Liggett, Jr., of Maryland avenue was hostess at a pretty luncheon yesterday, the guests of honor being Mrs. Richardson of Detroit, a niece and Miss George A. Berry of Kenmawr. Both are old friends of Mrs. Liggett and Mrs. Richardson has only within the past two years returned to Pittsburgh after a residence of 20 years in Cincinnati, where she went soon after her marriage. The guests yesterday were Mrs. Edward Gregg, Mrs. John Liggett, Sr., Mrs. George P. Balmain, Mrs. Frances Childs, Miss Caroline Kelly, Mrs. Robert Harmerton Kelly and Mrs. Addison B. Daily of Crafton, with the two guests of honor. As Mrs. Liggett distributed her favors, bunches of violets, she sang "With a Violet," accompanied by Mrs. Daily. Mrs. Richardson and Mrs. Liggett, Sr., gave an impromptu musical program after the luncheon.

Frieberg-Nosoff.

Miss Elizabeth Frieberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. Frieberg of Fifth avenue, and Charles Nosoff were married last evening at the home of the bride's parents at 6 o'clock. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Markowitz of San Francisco, a cousin of the bride, who came to Pittsburgh for the wedding. The attendants were Miss Anna Frisberg, a sister of the bride, who served as maid of honor, and Lawrence Frieberg, the best man. Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. J. Koler of Denver, M. Frieberg of Detroit and the parents of the bridegroom, from New York. After a short wedding trip in the east, Mr. and Mrs. Nosoff will live in Pittsburgh, making their home with Mr. and Mrs. Frieberg.

The Rector's Daughter to Wed.

The marriage of Miss Julia Margaret Benton of Sewickley and Dr. Frank Almere Ross of Washington, D. C., will take place in St. Stephen's Episcopal church, Sewickley, this evening at 8 o'clock. Miss Benton is a daughter of the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Benton. The ceremony will be performed by the bride's father, and will be witnessed only by immediate relatives and friends. The maid of honor will be Miss Jane Glenn of Wooster, O., and the bridesmaids, Miss Mary C. Chaplin and Miss Eleanor A. Gormley, both of Sewickley. The best man will be Dr. John R. Benton of Washington, and the ushers Stewart C. Spencer and John A. Emery of Pittsburgh.

Local Man Honored.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Riley, who left this city four years ago for Denver, Col., are now in St. Joseph, Mo. In Denver he was connected with the Denver Gas Company and is now in charge of the company's branch office in St. Charles. Before leaving Denver last Saturday the officers of the company presented Mr. Riley with a silver loving cup, and after his arrival in St. Charles he and Mrs. Riley were the guests of honor at a large reception and dinner given by the branch officers. Mrs. Riley was Miss Carrie Harvey Thompson before her marriage and is a daughter of Mrs. Sarah Elizabeth Thompson of Lehigh avenue, East End, who belongs to an old southern family.

Finley—Torrens.

The Rev. Henry B. Hummel of the Park Avenue Presbyterian church officiated last evening at the wedding of Miss Frances Finley, daughter of Mrs. George Finley of Frankstown avenue, and Francis O. Torrens. The couple were unattended and the guests included only a few relatives. Before the ceremony Mrs. Finley gave a family dinner of 12 covers. After their wedding trip, which will include several points of interest in the east, Mr. and Mrs. Torrens will live in their own home in Frankstown avenue. At home days after May 15 have been announced.

Notes of Society.

Mrs. Paulby of Cincinnati is spending a couple of weeks with Mrs. Warren G. Partridge in Hallet avenue.

Mrs. William Campbell was hostess at a small dinner last evening at her home in Stanton avenue, East End.

Mrs. W. N. Dumbrill of North Negley avenue entertained the members of the Negley Avenue Euchre club yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Alfred Rhu of Penn and Graham streets will entertain the Home and Foreign Missionary societies of the East Liberty Presbyterian church at a fancy work party on Thursday, May 12, at 2 o'clock.

AMONG THE CLUBS

Committees for Donation Day.

At the monthly meeting of the board of managers of the Home for Incurables, held yesterday, arrangements were made for the annual reception and donation day at that institution, which will be observed on Thursday afternoon, May 19, from 2 o'clock until 6. The following committees were appointed:

Reception committee—Miss Malinda Pressly, Miss Mary Fusey, Miss Christine Arbuckle, Mrs. J. J. Donnell, Mrs. W. W. Kerr, Mrs. James H. McClintock and Miss Margaret C. Long.

Donations committee—Mrs. Norman M. Smith, Mrs. George K. Stevenson, Mrs. Maria D. Book, Mrs. John H. McKelvy, Mrs. A. Clark Drake, Miss Eleanor Sawyer and Miss Eleanor J. Stevenson.

Refreshments committee—Mrs. G. M. T. Taylor, Mrs. John Woodwell, Mrs. Samuel A. Ammon, Miss Creighton, Mrs. H. D. W. English, Miss Aiken, Miss M. A. Howard, Miss Alice W. Tindle, Mrs. Paschall Carr, Mrs. Wenman A. Lewis, Miss Anna D. Robinson, Miss Margaret McCandless, Miss Bessie P. Stephenson, Miss Wallace and Mrs. Robert Dornell Book.

The building of the board of managers' property it has in Butler street, between Fifty-fifth and Fifty-seventh streets, announces several weeks ago, has brought offers from several people. At the meeting of the board yesterday, however, there was no discussion of the sale of the property, the time being fully occupied with routine work and arrangements for the annual reception and donation day.

The board of managers include Miss Christine Arbuckle, Mrs. Samuel A. Ammon, Miss Mary Aiken, Mrs. Maria D. Book, Mrs. Robert Donnell Book, Mrs. Paschall Carr, Miss Catherine McC. Creighton, Miss Margaret E. McClintock, Mrs. James H. McClintock, Mrs. A. Clark Drake, Mrs. J. J. Donnell, Mrs. H. D. W. English, Miss Martha A. Howard, Mrs. W. W. Kerr, Mrs. John H. McKelvy, Mrs. Wenman A. Lewis, Miss Margaret C. Long, Miss Malinda Pressly, Miss Mary W. Fusey, Miss Anna D. Robinson, Mrs. Norman M. Smith, Mrs. George K. Stevenson, Miss Eleanor J. Stevenson, Miss Bessie P. Stephenson, Miss Eleanor Sawyer, Mrs. G. M. T. Taylor, Miss Alice W. Tindle, Mrs. John Woodwell and Miss Eva W. Wallace.

Meeting of Consumers League.

There was an unusually large attendance at the quarterly meeting of the Western Pennsylvania branch of the Consumers' league yesterday afternoon. Miss Jane R. Murdock, the recording secretary, spoke of the progress made during the last few months in the work of the league in Allegheny and Allegheny, speaking particularly of the efforts the women have made to secure a list of stores where conditions covering the employed meet requirements set forth by the league. The committees of late have not been seeking the data, she claimed, to arrange for a boycott of some stores, but merely to inform the public of such places as meet the conditions covered by a list which is called the "white list." Mrs. William J. Askin, chairman of the committee to interest churches and clubs, moved for that line of effort. Mrs. Theresa Byrnes of the Catholic Women's Benevolent association, spoke of child labor, and Miss Agnes L. Harding discussed several phases of the work undertaken by the league.

An interesting feature was the display of garments from one of the regular exhibits arranged by eastern manufacturers who are permitted to use the Consumers' league label because of the sanitary conditions surrounding the making of the garments, and the wholesome surroundings provided for the employes.

A nominating committee was appointed to present a ticket at the next quarterly meeting, which will be the annual meeting, and will be held in the fall. The committee consists of Miss Beulah Leonard, chairman; Mrs. William J. Askin, Mrs. John Cowley, Mrs. Theresa Popp and Miss Alma O'Neil. After the meeting tea was served.

Final Meeting of Tuesday Reading Club.

The Tuesday Reading club held its final meeting of the season yesterday afternoon in the Concordia club. The guests of honor were Mrs. Henry Kaufmann, Mrs. Augustus Cronenfeld Mrs. N. Baum, all of whom will sail this month for Europe, to remain abroad during the summer. Mrs. Enoch Reuly was the reader at the meeting yesterday and gave selections from Irving and Aldrich. A musical program was presented by Miss Elsie Trauerman, vocalist, accompanied by Mrs. Josiah Cohen. Others who contributed were Miss Walter Rosenbaum, violinist; Miss Claudia Siegel and Mrs. Joseph Kaufman, pianist, and Mrs. Raub, harp soloist.

Medical Work in the Philippines.

Miss Weir, superintendent of the training school for nurses at the South Side hospital, will speak on the differences in medical work in the Philippines. Her audience will be the women of the Fourth Avenue Baptist church, who will hold their monthly missionary meeting in the chapel in Fourth avenue at 2 o'clock. Mrs. Weir went as a Red Cross nurse to Manila with the United States army during the Spanish-American war, and but for her duties at the hospital now would have filed an application to go as a Red Cross nurse to Japan. Mrs. Drake Offcutt will be the leader this afternoon. There will be special music.

Will Not Listen to Appeals for Money.

The Woman's club at its regular meeting yesterday listened to an interesting paper covering the history of the club, the oldest in Western Pennsylvania, presented by Mrs. C. J. Wade. Mrs. Wade was one of the original members of the club and has been identified with it throughout its career. It started as a literary club, and has been one of the first women's clubs which has kept nearest to its original idea. Mrs. Charles W. Gerwig spoke "For the Good of the Club." She urged the members to get back to the original idea from which they have gradually been drifting away. The club as a result of constant appeals for money for various philanthropic objects which have been advocated by the club women and others, decided not to appropriate funds hereafter for these purposes as a club, but permit individual members to do as much as they wish. It will, however, continue to contribute to the summer playgrounds and vacation schools and this year will take charge of the work in the Grant school and the Twelfth ward, Allegheny.

The club accepted the invitation of Mrs. J. J. Matthews to hold its annual social entertainment, the rose fete, at her home in North Negley avenue, the first Tuesday in June, June 7.

Meetings of the Nurses.

The regular monthly meeting of the West Penn Nurses' Alumnae association will be held this afternoon at the home of Miss Katherine Hickey and Miss Nora Hickey, 7406 Race street, Belmar, East End.

The alumnae of the Homeopathic Training school will hold their monthly meeting in the hospital in Second avenue tomorrow afternoon. The new president, Mrs. George O. Loeffler, will preside.

Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock the County Graduate Nurses' society will conduct its monthly meeting in the Dispensary building. At all of these meetings there will be a discussion of the plan for a contagious hospital.

EMPHATIC "NO" FROM CANNON

"Uncle Joe" Says He Will Be an Archangel Before He Is Vice President.

ILLINOIS IS PERFECTLY SAFE

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, May 3.—"Even at the risk of being accused of declining that which I probably could not get, if I desired it, I answer most unequivocally that if the nomination were tendered to me I would not accept it under any circumstances whatever.

This strongly old Speaker Cannon, in an authorized interview today, emphasize his determination with reference to the vice presidency. As he concluded dictating what he had to say the speaker added:

"If there is any language which can be more decisive, write it in."

"What are your reasons for such a statement?" he was asked, and he replied:

"I have been for almost 30 years a member of the national house of representatives. I might say my life work has been in connection with legislation in the house. I have been nominated by the Republicans of the congressional district in which I reside and have accepted the nomination. I have every reason to hope I shall be re-elected.

"If the Republicans have a majority in the next house of representatives, of which in my judgment there is no reasonable doubt, I will be a candidate to succeed myself as speaker. If, perchance, however, the Republicans should not have a majority in the next house I will take my place on the floor and give the best service in my power to the minority. In my judgment I can do better service in an humble place as a member of the house of representatives than I can do elsewhere."

Just at this point there was an interesting incident illustrative of the frequency with which vice presidential talk is kept stinging in the speaker's ears.

The doors of the room flew open, and Senator Burrows entered escorting a couple of his constituents who wanted, as Senator Burrows smilingly said, in introducing them, "to meet the present speaker and the next vice president."

Mr. Cannon bowed courteously, expressed his pleasure at seeing the two Michigan people, and turning to Mr. Burrows, observed:

"You will see me as an archangel before I am vice president."

"I am glad you retain your senses," said the senator in seriousness.

"I have no ambitions, touching the public service," declared Speaker Cannon, resuming the interview, as soon as the door closed behind his visitors, "outside of and disconnected with the house of representatives.

"One word more. There are many men in the Republican party in the middle west and elsewhere who are better equipped for the great office of vice president than I am and would add more strength to the ticket than I would, now that he declined as announced and my duty as a citizen and a Republican run together in the conclusion that I have come to, which is final."

"Have you taken into consideration," he was asked, "that it has been suggested that your candidacy on the ticket as vice president is necessary to carry Illinois?"

"There is nothing in that suggestion," he replied. "The Republican party is as strong in Illinois as it has been in a quarter of a century."

Prohibitionists Convene.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., May 3.—(Special.)—The Prohibitionists of Columbiana county held a convention here and nominated a county ticket as follows: Judge of common pleas court, E. A. CAN YOU WRITE VERSES? THEATER SEATS IF YOU CAN

A Box for a Single Verse, Four Orchestra Seats for the Second Best and Two Orchestra Seats for Third Prize—Send Verses at Once.

A golden opportunity is hereby presented by The Gazette and Manager Loudon G. Charlton of the Bostonians to the best versifier of all local aspirants to lyric fame and honors.

The Bostonians, who are at the Nixon, want a verse of purely local interest that can be sung as an additional verse to the topical song, "Dreaming," the Herbert-Smith lyric made famous by Barnabee, Frothingham and the Bostonians' various prima donnas.

Anyone who desires to sit in state with his friends in a box and who has some ability in writing jingles is invited to submit one stanza or more under the simple conditions of the contest. These conditions are that the verse be purely of local interest and application and that the measure and rhythm conform to the regular verses, one of which is printed below as a model. It is also desirable that the subjects be treated in a humorous and witty manner, good nature to predominate at all times. The best verse submitted will be sung by Mr. Barnabee at the performance Thursday night, May 12, and the writer will be rewarded with a box seating six persons; the next best in merit will be sung by Mr. Frothingham and the writer awarded four orchestra seats; the third prize will be two orchestra seats. Any topic of local interest may be selected, be it political, social, impersonal or general.

The judges will be Mr. Barnabee, Mr. J. Cheever Goodwin and Charles R. Bacon of the Bostonians' management; Mr. T. F. Kirk, Jr., of the Nixon and Mr. Charles M. Bregg of The Gazette.

The contest is now open. It will close next Tuesday midnight. Announcement of the result will appear in The Gazette Thursday morning, May 12. Address the Dramatic Editor of The Gazette.

One of the regular verses and refrains, from which to copy meter and rhythm, follows:

One afternoon while dozing,
My eyes a moment closing,
I seemed to feel a loving kiss
From some unknown, attractive miss.
Her arms around me pressing,
She spoke in voice caressing,
This Fawkes, awoke to-sway,
For there was no such person there.

Ah! Dreaming, dreaming,
Talking in my sleep,
Wandering in dreamland,
Where happiness is cheap;
When we awake
Things are not what they seem;
I thought it was a kiss,
But it was just an idle dream.

PILLSBURY BEATS WORLD'S CHAMPION

Dr. Lasker, World's Champion Chess Player, Lost Heavily in Game With Yankee.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CAMBRIDGE SPRINGS, PA., May 3.—(Special.)—The Stars and Stripes waived triumphantly from the flagstaffs on Hotel Rider this afternoon. It was to celebrate a great victory scored by the American champion over Dr. Lasker, holder of the world's championship. In the evening upon entering the dining hall Pillsbury was greeted by the strains of "The Star Spangled Banner" by the Hotel Rider orchestra and Dr. Lasker found consolation in listening to "Die Wacht Am Rhein." Janowski won a splendid game from Tschigorin, continuing at the head after agreeing to a draw in an adjourned game with Showalter. Marshall by his victory over Lawrence, and Teichmann by defeating Napier remained on an equal footing, dangerously close to the leader. Dr. Lasker's defeat relegated him to fifth.

The results today were as follows: Pillsbury beat Lasker in 30 moves; Marshall defeated Lawrence in 29 moves; Teichman beat Napier in 37 moves; Fox beat Schlechter in 42 moves; Showalter beat Delmar in 40 moves; Janowski beat Tschigorin in 43 moves; Marco beat Hodges in 26 moves and Barry at the end of 47 moves drew with Mieses. The record at the end of the round stands as follows:

	Won.	Lost.
Janowski	5½	1½
Marshall	5	1
Teichman	5	1
Mieses	4½	1½
Lasker	4	2
Pillsbury	3½	2½

U. S. MINISTER POWELL LEAVES SANTO DOMINGO

Owing to Ill Health He Returns to Port-au-Prince—Gives Good Advice to President.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

SANTO DOMINGO, REPUBLIC OF SANTO DOMINGO, May 3. — United States Minister Powell, who, on account of ill health, is compelled to return to Port-au-Prince, took leave of Provisional President Morales today. The minister, addressing President Morales, said that the government and people of the United had a profound interest in the future of Santo Domingo. They hoped revolutions would cease and that the Dominican family become united. Neither the government nor the people of the United States had the least idea of annexation. They desired that Santo Domingo remain a sovereign independent power, and in this the republic would have the support of the United States government. Mr. Powell said his government would not consent to any portion of Dominican territory passing under the control of any foreign power.

The fact that the republic vested largely on the keeping of all obligations toward foreign creditors, on respecting the concessions the government made to foreigners, on developing the country's resources and on the passage of such laws as would bring prosperity. These considerations, the minister said, the whole people into the confidence of the government, would be the greatest foil and guard against revolution and anarchy. The minister assured the president that the American people would be at his side if he remained steadfast to the principles of a good republic.

The United States cruiser Detroit returned last night from visiting northern ports. The Dominican warship, Independencia, has left here with troops for Monte Cristi, which is still in the hands of the revolutionists.

It is the intention of the company to build a line through Sewickley to connect the proposed Ben Avon line and form a connecting link in the Pittsburg-Beaver line.

Want All Work Done by Contract.

NEW CASTLE, PA., May 3.—The wage difficulties between the master builders and journeymen carpenters and between the master and journeymen tinners and slaters, will likely be decided by arbitration. The employers today submitted to both unions plans for arbitration. There is a difference of only 37½ cents between the master and journeymen tinners and slaters. The carpenters object to an increase from $3 to $3.50 a day in wages for individual work, while the scale is left at $3 for all work done by contractors. They say this will end individual employment and force all intending to build to do so through contractors.

RAILROAD ORDINANCES WERE SIDE-TRACKED

Pennsylvania Railroad Street Vacation Bills Referred to Special Committee.

The Pennsylvania railroad failed to get through the surveys committee of councils yesterday a number of ordinances for street vacations in the Twenty-first ward, resulting from the construction of the Brilliant cutoff. Instead of the ordinances being promptly approved and sent to councils, they were referred to a special committee of five, consisting of Frederick Fichtel, A. M. Barr, John Hogue, Peter Hermes and Charles H. Weeks.

West contended that councils were familiar with the whole matter and that the bills had been before the old councils. Louis H. Fredericks said the ordinances were new to him. Fichtel sided with Fredericks and moved that the committee be appointed.

Bills were also approved to change the name of Zouave street to Melwood avenue; locating the east building line of Lexington avenue, repealing the location of Linden, Squirrel Hill avenues and Lyric street; establishing the grades on Horton, Breen, Breedshill, Portland, Kenesaw, Allegheny, Eccles, Berg, Cresson, Estella, Eureka, Katherine, Excelsior, Kingsboro, Halseman, Harwood, Laclede, Ingram, Kenova, Winton, Ruxton, Ruth, Jasadon, Lingal and Industry streets; Carnal, Born, Springer, Kingston and Lillian alleys, and on Curtin and Became avenues; re-establishing grades on Wanless, Graham, Torreas, Harrison, Keystone, Fifty-third and Fifty-fifth streets and on Murtland and Linden avenues and Vista alley.

OPENED BOND BIDS FOR $37,000,000

New York City Controller Receives Offers for "All or None."

FOR MUNICIPAL IMPROVEMENT

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau,
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, May 3.

Controller Grout opened bids this afternoon for $37,000,000 of 3½ per cent gold bonds of the city, all tax exempt except for state purposes and all maturing in 50 years, except $5,000,000 of assessment bonds, which are redeemable in 10 years. It was the largest single bond sale ever attempted by the city and had aroused great interest in financial circles. The last sale of city bonds a few months ago was made at 100.10, very close to the par figure, below which, by law, city bonds cannot be sold. The rule that no "all or none" bids could be accepted was revoked for this sale, because it was thought that a higher average premium would be offered.

One hundred bids were received. The "all or none" offers were: Harvey Fiske's Sons, Speyer & Co., Kuhn, Loeb & Co., National City bank, Vermilye & Co., Parson, Leach & Co., 100.46; the First National bank and National Bank of Commerce, 100.57, and for the 10-year bonds, 100.05; Kidder, Peabody & Co., Bonbright, Magoun & Co., and Fisk & Robinson, 100.7513; J. and W. Seligman Company and Edward Sweet & Co., 101 for $10,000,000 at from 100.88 to 101.13.

The same issue 150 eight times oversubscribed. The bids ranged from par to 102. The Kuhn, Loeb & Co syndicate made the only "all or none" offer for the whole issue of $37,000,000. The other syndicate offers of "all or none" were for the $32,000,000 of 30-year bonds. Comptroller Grout said that he thought that the city would realize an average price of 101.

Some of the principal items and purposes of this large issue of bonds are: For rapid transit work, $4,700,000; for docks and ferries, $2,650,000; for school houses and sites, $3,600,000; for the Williamsburg bridge, $3,700,000; for repaving streets, $2,000,000; for additional water supply, $1,600,000; to replenish the assessment fund, $5,000,000; for aqueduct work, $7,000,000.

No such interest was ever manifested before in Wall street in a sale of corporate bonds of the city of New York. When it was first announced that Comptroller Grout would offer for sale $37,000,000 of corporate bonds, the criticism was heard that the time was not ripe for such an offer, and that in the present condition of the stock market and the bond and investment markets generally, there would be few bidders for the new issues. The change in sentiment, however, had been very decided.

It had been suggested that one of the reasons for expecting many bidders was that it was deemed desirable to make this bond issue a success, because of the influence it might have on outside investors. It is pointed out that if unfavorably low prices should be made for this particular issue, it would deter investors in other securities, reflecting, as it might be supposed to do, the uncertainty of the big financial houses.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, May 3.—In a terrific batting rally the Cubs overwhelmed the Pirates, winning the third game of the series 15 to 3. The ambitious youngsters made it so hot for Scanlon that his hair took fire in the fourth.

He can be seen any time contemplating the grand march around the bases. Southpaw Lee succeeded Scanlon on the firing line and Lee also received what was coming to him. The game got so far to the bad then that Capt. Clarke refrained from sacrificing any more pitchers.

Scanlon was chased out of the box in the fourth inning for the double reason that he was vulnerable and was as wild as a March hare. After giving several bases on balls he made a balk that advanced two runners. Then he was fish. Capt. Clarke sent him to the bench and Lee, who had previously been warming up, was sent in.

The treatment the Cubs gave Lee was almost as scandalous as that they gave Scanlon. He managed to retire the locals in the remainder of the fourth after they had brought in four runs, but they jumped on him for three hits in the fifth, for two runs, two in the sixth for one run and three in the seventh for two and four in the eighth for three.

In the fourth Wagner got a hit, stole second and came in when Bransfield and Sebring hit the ball. In the seventh Leach hit Richey in the back, Smith and Lee got bases on balls and two came in on Leach's single. The team got two hits in the first and had a good chance to score, but Wagner and Bransfield were not equal to the emergency.

Scanlon's pitching was not so bad if he had been able to locate the plate. Only three hits were secured off him, but he gave five bases on balls and when he was taken out it looked like he was going to give a lot more.

The Cubs scored their first run in the second inning when Beaumont muffed McCarthy's fly. Jones got a pass to first and both came in on King's single. The most terrible slaughter came in the fourth when Chance beat out a bunt, got second on a passed ball, stole third and came in on Bransfield's error. The other runs in the inning were a natural result of errors and passed balls, but those that followed for the most part were the result of hits, clean and well defined. Davy Jones got two bases on balls, two doubles and a single and came in with enough runs to win the game. McCarthy crossed the plate three times and a number of others came in twice.

Pittsburgh started its fielding game by making the first triple play that has been seen in Chicago this year. In the first inning, with Slagle and Casey on bases, Chance hit a liner to Bransfield, who rabbed it, tagged Casey and then touched second. Moskiman pitched a very creditable game and was well supported. He held the visitors down to five hits and none of them were better than a single. The score:

GREENVILLE H. S. LOSES TO EAST LIBERTY ACADEMY

California Normal Beats Pittsburgh College on Bluff—Results of Local Games.

The Greenville High school team found King, the East Liberty academy pitcher, for two runs in the first inning of yesterday's game, and then was blanked until the ninth, when it threatened a Garrison finish. The final score was 10 to 5 against the visitors. With two out in the ninth King became careless and lobbed up an easy one to McKay, who had two balls and two strikes on him. McKay landed on the ball for two sacks, and this stimulated the Greenville batters on to greater efforts. Before the side was retired three runners scampered over the plate on three singles and a walk. Capt. McCracken was about to change pitchers when King retired the side.

Aside from this inning and the first Greenville was outplayed when it came to getting runs. The visitors twice had the bases filled, but could not fetch. McDade led at the bat for East Liberty with four hits, one going for two bases. The score:

The California State Normal team beat the Pittsburgh college yesterday on the Bluff 11 to 1. The collegians started off well, scoring two runs and blanking their opponents in the first inning. In the second Kilgallon was hit by a pitched ball and compelled to retire from the game. Kummer was substituted, and the up-river players scored four runs on three hits and two passes to first, aided by a wild pitch and a passed ball. After this inning the Bluffites played ragged ball, making nine errors. Kilgallon struck out three men in the only inning he twirled. Keating's running catches in left were features. Dawson and McCleary's pitching, the batting of Burner, Harmon and Cree and Harmon's fielding were of first-class style. The score:

PITCHER LEEVER MARTYR TO CAUSE

Some One Had to Suffer to Enforce New Rules and Schoolmaster Was the Victim.

PULLIAM TALKS BASEBALL

President Harry Pulliam of the National league was in the city yesterday having come from New York to attend the Crucible banquet. Harry was about town all day, but did not encounter Sam Leever who was hunting high and low for him with a grievance due to his recent suspension. The schoolmaster is angry over his set down, and he wanted to give his old friend Harry a piece of his mind, but could not do so, as Pulliam kept out of his way.

"I am sorry that Sammy was first victim," said the head of the league, "but someone had to be a martyr to the cause of the new balk rules, and the schoolmaster was about as fine a victim as could be selected. Those rules are on the books to be enforced, and so long as I am president I mean to see that they are. The new rule, or rather the enforcement of the old rule, works no hardship on the pitchers and the sooner they learn the rules and settle down to the observance of them and quit hagging the umpires who are simply following instructions, the better for themselves and the game. These rules are receiving the same enforcement in the east as in the west, and I want to tell you that the people in the east would not want to go back to the old way, because under the new order of things there is less wrangling and the games are played in much less time."

Pulliam reports that Chief Zimmer, the old Pirate who is now on the umpire staff, has made quite a hit in the east and bids fair to become one of the best and most popular umpires on the staff. "The chief has only one fault, which will be easily corrected, and that is his way of drawling out balls and strikes. The first Sunday game played in Brooklyn was presided over by Zimmer, and some funny incidents occurred. The crowd was a well-behaved one and there was an unusual quietness about the grounds, but the chief would sing out 'basall' or 'strillke,' there would come from some voice in the bleechers, 'Amen,' or 'Let us pray.' The chief got through all right, and what's more, he likes his new job."

Concerning the action of the New York courts in allowing Sunday play in Brooklyn, Pulliam said he had not read the full opinion of the court. He said the new order of things will prove a great thing financially for the owners of the Brooklyn club, and that it will be an exceedingly fine thing for the schedule so as to allow all clubs to work in Sunday games in that town. This can be done by transferring one of the week-day games.

GOLF SEASON OPENS.

Oakmont and Field Club Teams Will Meet in the First Match.

The golf season of the Western Pennsylvania Golf association begins today with a match between teams representing the new Oakmont Country club and the Field club on the latter's links at Brushton. AHL CHOSEN CAPTAIN OF THE SHADYSIDE TEAM

Pittsburgh High School Field and Track Men Out—Program for Season.

Charlie Ahl was declared captain of the Shadyside academy field and track teams for this season yesterday by the faculty. Ahl and Carl Borntraeger each received four votes at a recent election, and the faculty elected to appoint the captain.

Ahl had the candidates out yesterday for the first time this season. The old men who will be on the team are: Price, who will do the sprints and hurdles; Hall, sprints; McCutcheon, weights; Clarence Schmerts, quarter mile and low hurdles; Don McKaig, hurdles; Borntraeger, bike. Ahl will do the sprints and hurdles. Shadyside will compete in the interscholastic meet, which will be held in this section this spring.

Dunk Worrell, captain of the Pittsburgh High school field and track team, had his men out yesterday for the first outdoor work of the season. The indication is that High school will have strong teams this season. It will compete in the local meets, including a dual with Shadyside academy, and it is probable the teams will be sent to a second meet at Wheeling this spring. Those who have handed in their names for places are: Charles Harper, P. Smith, Roberts, for the dashes; Ewing Harper, Baldwin and Thompson, hurdles; Scott, Cohill and Owen, distance runs; Thompson, C. Harper, Schenck, Steeb, weights; Ralston, Thompson, C. Harper, McKnight, jumps; Capt. Worrell will compete in the dashes, weights and jumps.

But three men of last year's team are lost—Capt. Simpson, who won the mile and half mile in the championship meet at Schenley park; Flood, who was second in the mile and Thomas, who won the mile event at Washington. The inter-class meet will be held May 13, the dual with Shadyside May 20 and the meet at Washington May 28.

George England of Allegheny has been selected to umpire the Shadyside-East baseball games. He will also umpire the East Liberty-Pittsburgh High school game Friday.

Pitcher Terrel of the Sewickley team is to call up 52 Schenley at 10:30 this morning and ask for Price.

TWO BAD INNINGS COST HOMESTEAD THE GAME

Zanesville Gets Good Lead When Steel Workers "Boot" the Ball.

Homestead had two bad innings, the third and fourth, yesterday at Steel Works park against Zanesville and the Oilcans collected enough runs in these rounds to put them on easy street. The final score was 9 to 5.

"Soldier" Mullin beat the game on the rubber for Homestead, but he gave way to Geyer, the Alleghenian, when the game was lost. Delaney of the Haverhill (New England league) made a good impression with the bat, but he was off in fielding. O'Leary did the best batting for the Rishorites. The same teams will play again today, and it is probable Bennett will pitch for Homestead, although Carroll, who was on the card to work yesterday, may be used. The score:

HARRIMAN FINDS WEST BETTER THAN EXPECTED

Orders More Equipment for His Roads—Southern Pacific Is Improving.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, May 3.—President E. H. Harriman of the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific roads, who has just returned from a tour of inspection of those properties, says he found conditions in the west and southwest much better than he thought they would be. When he made his previous trip to those sections, last fall, he said, the extreme depression in the stock market and unsettled conditions generally in this part of the country were clearly reflected in the west and southwest.

Conditions now are so much better that he felt warranted in ordering more equipment for the Harriman roads than he had originally intended. Regarding Southern Pacific, Mr. Harriman said that the road was now beginning to see daylight in the matter of extraordinary expenses. Mr. Harriman said he hadn't given much thought to the matter of dividends on Southern Pacific, but intimated that once dividends were begun they would be continued.

Crop conditions in the west and southwest, according to Mr. Harriman, were much better than the government reports indicated. Of the west as a whole he said: "I thought more conservatism was being shown there than in that of the country; he believes, is in good shape to look after its own financial requirements.

HEAVY INVESTMENT DEMAND FOR NEW YORK CITY BONDS

More Than a Hundred Bids for the $37,000,000 3 1-2s Offered Yesterday—Stock Market Dull and Irregular.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

The financial event of the day was the opening of bids by Comptroller Grout for the $37,000,000 3½ per cent New York city bonds yesterday. There were more than a hundred bidders, some of them for good-sized lots averaging a premium of 1⅛ per cent, and the lowest for the entire $37,000,000 or none showing an advance of .30 per cent over the price at which $5,000,000 of the same class of bonds sold last March. The average price was the best since last July, when $5,500,000 sold at 102. The highest price at which this class of security has recently sold was 106.162, which was paid for $7,500,000 in November, 1902. Not only became yesterday's offering was the largest ever sprung at a single sale by any municipality in this country, but because the transaction was expected to reflect the actual state of the investment market, this sale has been looked forward to with interest by bankers and brokers, and the results are highly satisfactory, when the amount of the offering is taken into consideration. Some of the chronic bears in Wall street insisted that the character of the bidding was below expectation, but when the size of the commissions which bankers have been making out of the recent corporation note issues is taken into account, it is an encouraging sign when the same bankers are willing to bid a premium for a 3½ per cent municipal bond issue.

The general stock market in New York was dull and irregular all day. London quotations came higher, and consols advanced ½ per cent to the highest price this year in the face of declining prices for Russian securities in the continental markets, due to the war news from the far east. Foreigners were reported to be buyers of Union Pacific on a fairly liberal scale, but the renewed weakness in United States Steel gave the market a heavy tone during the morning session. The preferred down to 88, which is within a fraction of the low point of the year, and late in the session the common stock declined to 10, which is within ⅝ of the lowest ever quoted, which was touched last January. The sinking fund bonds declined to and closed at 73¼. There was no news to account for the weakness in these issues, but the persistent selling of rather large amounts conveys the impression that some interest with accurate information as to the exact condition of the trade is liquidating long stock. The preferred recovered a small fraction and closed at 55¼, a net loss for the day of ½ per cent. Amalgamated Copper was also heavy, selling down to 46⅝ and closing at 46⅞, although trade reports continue bullish.

The Pennsylvania report of earnings for March created a bad impression, the decrease of more than $500,000 in gross earnings attracting more attention than the increase of $150,000 in expenses, the former being construed as unimpeachable evidence of a falling off in industrial activity. Pennsylvania stock opened at 117⅝ and declined to 117¼, but quickly recovered to 118 and closed to 117⅝. Baltimore & Ohio was fairly strong all day and closed at the top. Active buying of Union Pacific finally checked the declining tendency of the general list and brought about a fair rally. Union Pacific rallied 1¼ per cent to 84⅝, Southern Pacific to 47⅜, and St. Paul to 143¼, and these three leaders closed at net advances for the day. Louisville & Nashville did not respond to the favorable earnings for March, and the general railroad list subsided into extreme dullness. Metropolitan sold off to 108¾, but subsequently recovered to 110 and closed firm.

The weather bureau's weekly summary of crop conditions for the week ending with Saturday was not so unfavorable as the previous week, and since the compilation of this report there has been a decided improvement all over the grain belt. Foreign crop reports were also generally favorable. The grain markets do not reflect any anxiety on the part of the trade regarding the outlook for the crop, and the reports from Kansas that wheat was beginning to head out shows what a few warm days will do for the crop.

In the local stock market yesterday there was a large falling off in the volume of trading and the tendency of prices was downward. Pittsburgh Coal preferred reacted sharply, selling off from 58 to 56¾, at which it closed. The common stock was relatively firm, advancing to 16½ and closing at 16¼. Crucible Steel preferred declined from 36¼ to 35⅝ and closed at the lowest. Westinghouse Electric was active and after selling off to 76¾, the low point of the year, recovered to 77. The rest of the list was dull and unchanged.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

While public transactions in bonds listed on the local exchange continue light, it is said that some large transactions have recently been made privately in unlisted bonds at prices showing a slight advance over recent quotations. Bid prices on the exchange for listed bonds are firm, with an upward tendency.

Some surprise is expressed at the continued firmness of the local money market, in the face of the low rates and abundance prevailing in the east. "The chief topic of talk in the city remarked yesterday "Pittsburgh is the firmest money market in the country for the average borrower. Brokers are offered concessions from 5 per cent rate, and where the collateral has a good market bankers are willing to make call loans at 5 per cent, but the average commercial borrower is paying 6 per cent, and funds are not abundant at that rate."

The next step in the Clairton Steel Company purchase will be the formal application to the United States court for the discharge of the receivers and the dissolution of the receivership. This will be followed by the transfer of the properties to the steel company. Included in this will be the turning over to the steel corporation, in addition to the property, the inventories of the Clairton company, which by the Crucible terms are guaranteed to be of cash value of $2,61,000. It is expected that the legal formalities will all be compited with and the transfer actually accomplished by May 15. From that time control will pass to the corporation, and it will operate or keep idle the furnace capacity of Clairton as it may deem best.

The Exchange National bank yesterday declared the regular semi-annual dividend of 3 per cent.

Wall street gossip credited "one of the junior Rockefellers" with buying a large block of Union Pacific.

The Bank of Pittsburgh has declared dividend No. 178, being 4 per cent, payable forthwith. This is the first dividend declared on the new capitalization.

Private sales of Tonopah Extension were reported yesterday at $1 10. The par value of the stock is $1.

A special meeting of stockholders of the Diamond National bank will be held June 6 to vote upon a proposed increase of the capital from $500,000 to $900,000.

The copper metal market continues firm. New York reports that 13⅝ is bid and 13¾@13⅝ asked for Lake Copper.

The selling of United States Steel sinking fund bonds during the past few days has been of a kind that Wall street calls "good."

The gross earnings of Wabash for the fourth week in April increased $2,427.

The net earnings of Louisville & Nashville for March increased $103,462.

The American Cotton Oil Company yesterday declared the regular semi-annual dividend of 3 per cent on the preferred stock.

The annual report of the United Gas Improvement Company of Philadelphia shows net earnings of $4,027,592, an increase of $553,888.

The net earnings of the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh for March decreased $108,040.

For the 10 months ended February 29 the net earnings of the Lehigh Coal & Navigation Company were $4,172,745, a decrease of $1,728,226.

There has been listed on the Philadelphia stock exchange $600,000 additional Consolidated Collateral Trust 5s of the Philadelphia Company.

Wabash reports for March an increase of 2½ per cent in gross and a decrease of over 50 per cent in net, caused by an increase of over 20 per cent in expenses.

The United States Steel Company has received from the Chicago & Western Indiana an order for 1,000 tons of bridge material and another of 700 tons from the Chicago & Northwestern. It has also an estimate pending for 35,000 tons of structural bridge material. The steel company is making bessemer pig iron at the rate of 180,000 tons per week, and expects to run it up to 200,000 tons weekly as soon as it gets possession of Clairton. Its present output, with 85 furnaces in blast, is equivalent to an annual output of 9,360,000 tons, or 2,000,000 tons greater than last year.

Wall street continues bearish on the steel stocks. The gossip yesterday was to the effect that in some quarters a quiet but persistent effort is being made to have steel rail prices for the last half of the year reduced below the present schedule of $28 per ton. Railroads which have signified their views, and it is contended that buying in volume will not begin until prices are reduced to $25 per ton or lower. Another argument is the wide discrepancy between domestic and export prices which, it is argued, if maintained, will subject the steel tariff to attack during the presidential campaign. Last year's rail output by the mills of the United States is conservatively estimated as worth $75,000,000 gross to the companies. This year's output, on the basis of present orders, will not exceed $50,000,000 gross, and many fall considerably below that figure. Many of the rail mills of the steel corporation and the independent railmakers will be short of orders by the fourth quarter unless new booking begins soon.

United States 2s, the 3s coupon and the old 4s declined ⅛ and the new 4s ½ per cent on call in New York yesterday.

In New York call money showed a firmer tone early for the first time in many days and the minimum rate was 2 per cent, with loans made above that. This was attributed to the growing influence of the gold exports and to the exigencies of the bidders for the $37,000,000 New York bonds issue. Later the bids for announced call money broke to 2½ for 1 per cent. The time money market was not affected. The statement by J. P. Morgan & Co. clarified the understanding of the method of the Panama canal payments and made clear the position of his firm as the fiscal agent of this government and the mediary by contract with the canal company. This disclosure gave the impression that previous raticence had been due to the necessary steps to be taken in the exchange market and reopened the supposition that other of the gold exports than those by the Morgan firm have been connected with the Panama canal payment, thus deducting from the future requirements.

THE MONEY MARKET.

The local money market is firm at 5@6 per cent on call and time loans. Clearing house comparisons:

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

Harrison and Seaver, lessees on the W. P. H. Cripple Creek, in crosscutting to the rich ore shoot at a depth of 350 feet, have cut in less than five streaks carrying pay value and are engaged in developing one of these encountered at a point about 75 feet from the shaft. Assays have been obtained from this vein as high as $326, but the bulk of the ore broken will run on an average of about $30 to the ton.

The Accident property on Gold Hill, Cripple Creek, leased and bonded to W. G. Kilpatrick in the sum of $50,000, is overhauling the machinery preparatory to starting up the mine. It is known that the Pointer ore shoot has been mined to the line and it is Kilpatrick's intention to develop the extension of the vein in Accident territory.

About three-quarters of a ton of ore in a stock consignment was sent out from Granville lease on the C. K. & N. last week. This ore it is estimated will run on an average of $1,000 gold to the ton. The consignment, therefore, will be worth in the neighborhood of $15,000.

J. H. Babendorf arrived at Spokane last week from Thunder Mountain and he brought information regarding the Dewey and Sunnyside mines. He said the Dewey can be seen all the way across the big ledge by the aid of candle light. The 10-stamp mill on the Dewey has been working away steadily putting out from $10,000 to $12,000 in bullion every month. The Sunnyside has no machinery on the property, but has a 40-stamp mill at the end of the wagon road ready to be taken in as soon as snow goes. Machinery of all kinds is piled around at the end of the wagon road.

The Pittsburgh, the property just north of the Dewey, struck the same lead as the Dewey. The ledge is not so large there, being about 200 feet wide, but it carries good value. The Copper Mountain property, at Pittsburgh landing, owned by George A. Tuttle and John Tuttle, also reports a good strike of a 50-foot ledge of good copper. It also heard that the property adjoining the Copper Mountain property was sold for $40,000 immediately after this strike.

A dispatch from Lewiston, Idaho, says: Mrs. Alma Wood of the mining boom town just received a letter from C. A. Sherlin, manager of the Golconda Mining Company, operating in the Cave Gulch district, announcing a recent visit to the rich free gold strike reported from near Nez Perce. Mr. Sherlin reports that a six-foot ledge has been uncovered with gold visible to the eye across the full width of the ledge. Some of the specimens brought up are fully one-fourth gold. The new strike is on the hillside opposite the Pardee section, and is between 1,500 and 2,000 feet above river level."

It is reported that the Jumbo mine will begin dividends the coming summer. The company is preparing to install a six-drill compressor.

Operations were resumed last week on the placer properties of the Couer d'Alene Gold Mining Company at Murray, Idaho. The company owns several thousand acres of placer grounds, acquired at a cost of several hundred thousand dollars.

A recent report from Alaska states that Superintendent MacDonald of the Treadwell mine at Juneau has the pyramid representing each year's production of gold at the Treadwell about completed. It is composed of 21 bricks, the first year's production (about $2,000) being the small brick on top. Each brick toward the base is larger than that above to the last, which is almost 12 feet in length. The value represented by this pyramid is $22,000,000, or more than three times the purchase price of the territory of Alaska. The pyramid is to be exhibited at the St. Louis exposition.

The Metal Market.

NEW YORK, May 3.—Tin was a little higher in London, an advance of 2s 6d being reported with spot quoted at £127 10s and futures at £123 15s. Locally, the inside price was raised slightly, but the outside price was lower and the average unchanged, the new range being $27 90@28 10. Copper was unchanged in London with spot at £88 17s 6d and futures at £84 5s. The local market also remained unchanged at $13 50 for lake, $13 12½@13 25 for electrolytic and $12 87½@13 12½ for casting. Lead declined 2s 6d in the English market, closing at £12, while New York remained unchanged at $4 00@4 05. Spelter was unchanged at $5 20@5 25 in the New York market, at £22 7s 6d in London. Pig iron, for the corresponding period a week ago 7½d in Middlesboro. Locally iron is unchanged. No. 1 foundry northern is quoted at $15 25@15 75; No. 2 foundry northern at $14 75@15 25; No. 1 foundry southern and No. 1 foundry southern, soft, at $14 00@14 50.

The Three Rivers

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CINCINNATI, May 3.—The stage of the river at 8 o'clock this evening registered 33.7 feet and falling, making a fall of .1 foot during the past 24 hours. Weather partly cloudy and cloudy with heavy showers this afternoon. Local packets were in and out on time with good trips, including the Virginia for Pittsburgh. The towboat movements were: Arrivals, Jim Wood, Gleaner, Jack Frost and Wash Honshell with coal; the Frank Gilmore and W. H. Flint are due tomorrow with coal. Both of them will deliver here and take tows of empties above. The Tom Rees No. 2 is due tomorrow from Louisville, with empties. The government lighthouse tender, the Goldenrod, left today for her semi-annual trip of inspection, pay and replenishing of the stations along the Ohio river and its tributaries. The trip will be of six weeks' duration, and about 10,000 miles will be covered in that time. The tributaries which will be inspected are the Kentucky, Salt, Wolf, Cumberland, Tennessee and Green rivers. J. H. Weeks of Pittsburgh was the guest of Capt. Harry Riedon on the floor of the chamber of commerce here today.

Very Little Coal is Moving But More May Move About May 15.

There was less than a nine-foot stage in the local harbor yesterday and the river was falling. Packet business showed considerable improvement over this time last week, owing to improved weather conditions. The boats coming in yesterday had good passenger lists and were pretty well loaded with freight. The Queen City got in from Cincinnati last evening, the Kanawha arrived from Parkersburg and the Rose Hite from Morgantown. The Kanawha departed with a good trip and brought in a large amount of country produce.

Other navigation was practically at a standstill. A number of mines up river have been closed down and there is comparatively little work for the pool boats. The demands for coal down-river have been pretty well supplied and very little coal will be shipped out during the rest of this season. The Joe Walton, now returning light, will probably be sent out this week with a fleet of 22 barges, and may be the last tow until next winter. Col. Theodore Fee has predicted higher water, however, near the middle of the month, and it is possible that more shipments will be made at that time.

Boats were very busy bringing down sand and gravel from the Allegheny yesterday and were the only ones that put in an appearance in the local harbor besides the packets and excursion boats. The Keystone State, Terrance is being painted and put in shape for the season of the season, May 19. The Mayflower will soon be ready to make her first trip. Inquiries regarding these boats are now coming fast.

Arrivals.

Rose Hite, Williams, Morgantown, Kanawha, Roe, Parkersburg; Queen City, Sweeny, Cincinnati.

Departures.

Rose Hite, Williams, Morgantown, Kanawha, Roe, Parkersburg.

Local River Notes.

The Cricket has started in the Wheeling and Steubenville trade.

The Sprague, J. B. Finley and Joe Walton are on the way up from New Orleans. The Sprague will stop at Louisville and take another tow south.

The Queen City will be the Cincinnati packet today and the Columbia will be the Morgantown post. The Kanawha got out for Parkersburg yesterday.

Capt. William Hamley has succeeded Capt. Louis Craig in command of the ferry Steel Queen. Capt. Lon Drake has been made pilot of the Francis J. Torrance.

BIG INDUSTRIES FOR NEW ECONOMY

Companies That Will Employ 3,500 Men Are Negotiating for Sites.

MANY BUILDING PROJECTS

East End Frontage Brings $40,500.

Negotiations are well under way which will probably result in locating three more big industries along the Ohio river front in Ambridge and Economy, the two towns which the Real Estate Trust Company is developing. No plans have been made public yet, but it is understood that the new works will be similar in their nature to those of the American Bridge Company, whose immense plant will employ when completed more than 3,500 men will be employed in the new plants, which will extend from the plants of the American Bridge Company down the river to New Economy, that part of the old Economite possessions lying just above the old town itself. It will make a compact line of six manufactories, for nearly two miles. It is rumored that one of the works to be established will be for the manufacture of navigation craft, and that it will be in full operation within a year. These plants, with others which have partly settled in Economy, will furnish employment to at least 14,000 men, enough to assure a rapidly growing city on the ground which the Economites held nearly 100 years. Improved properties in the Economy village are being sold rapidly, but no sites in New Economy will be disposed of until the property is put on the market at public sale the latter part of this month.

Bought by an Experienced Builder.

It develops that John McSorley is the purchaser of the old Dr. Bingaman frontage of 150 feet on the north side of Ohio river, at the corner of Ellsworth and Amberson avenues, sale of which, through the office of D. McNeils & Co., was announced in the Gazette Sunday. This property was sold for $50,000 and in part payment for it Mr. McSorley will convey to the former owners, W. W. Cheswright and W. Fraser, a large brick house, lot 45x125 feet, in Jackson street, near Collins avenue. This property is valued at $20,000. Although the deal is not fully closed it is said that it is almost certain to go through and will result in a fine apartment house being erected on the frontage. Mr. McSorley built the apartments at Center avenue and Craig street, as well as other high-class apartment around the city, and the building proposed for the Bingaman site will be a model structure in every respect.

E. M. West, the commission merchant who recently purchased from Isaac and Henry Bingaman 150 feet of ground at the corner of Sheridan and Elsworth avenues for $11,900, is preparing to improve the site with a residence, to cost $20,000. The house will be of the Dutch type of architecture. The adjoining lot, 40x130 feet, also owned by Mr. Kaufmann, was sold to Mrs. Mary D. Sturgeon for $4,000 and will also be improved with a fine house. Both sales were made by A. L. Watson.

More Houses to Be Built.

As the weather becomes more seasonable house building projects continue to come to light which indicate that this line of trade will be quite as busy as usual, if not more so, this year. W. F. Panke, who has been engaged in speculative house building for several years, is now receiving estimates on 30 houses which will be up in the suburbs in Millvale Manor. They are brick and frame dwellings, costing $2,200 each, and will be built to sell. In Swissvale a number of house building projects are soon to be launched. Thomas A. Armstrong, the estate broker, is now planning to build 10 six and eight-room brick houses in Millhan avenue at a cost of $3,500 each. The lots are 25x100 feet, A. M. Loose has plans for 10 similar houses in Millhan Manor. In Monongahela avenue Joseph and Moses Parjedy have just started 12 houses, which will cost $3,000 each. Three more brick houses to cost $5,000 each are to built in Milligan avenue by W. A. Kramer.

Architect Titus de Bobula has awarded the contract to Bodine & Co. for the erection of the St. Nicholas Greek Roman Catholic church at Duquesne to cost $30,000.

M. Naylor has plans for a three-story brick store and apartment building at Braddock avenue and Rosslyn street, Swissvale, to cost $20,000.

Plans are being drawn by Architect William H. Simms for an apartment house for John C. Dilworth in Jackson street, near Sheridan avenue, to cost $40,000.

Architect Max Bastenig is revising plans for a three-story brick building for the Chartiers Valley Brewing Company at Carnegie. The estimated cost is $29,000.

Bids in the city received by Architects Carpenter & Crocker for the store and office building of S. H. Lloyd at Penn and Sheridan avenues, East End.

Architects Clepper & Moffitt have plans for the brick public building to be erected at Glassport at a cost of $40,000.

Bids will be taken this week by Architect Fred C. Sauer for the Parish house of the St. Mary Magdalen Roman Catholic congregation at Homestead, to cost $12,000.

The Henry Shenk Company received the contract for building a business block for the Pittsburgh Mercantile Company at California, Pa.

East End Frontage Brings $40,500.

William Peebles has disposed of three parcels of very desirable frontage in the Twenty-second ward, for a total of $40,500. To George L. Fowler, 50x142 feet, at the southwest corner of East End and Penn avenues for $18,000. Barbara E. P. Miller of Baltimore purchased 60x118 feet at the northwest corner of Penn and Negley avenues and Tuscarora street, for $11,500. The third parcel, 60x114 feet, adjoining the latter, was sold to Mary E. Ringwalt for $11,000.

C. M. Koser has bought from William T. Clawson, Swissvale property 40x141 feet, at the southeast corner of Euclid and Frederick avenues, Twentieth ward, for $78,000.

Compromise street, Allegheny: S. Harpromise street, Allegheny: S. Harper to Mrs. Agnes J. Hoover, 20x80 feet, near Jane street, Twenty-first ward, for $3,000.

EGYPTIAN ONIONS HAVE ARRIVED HERE

Old Vegetables Go Out of the Market—Poultry Situation Is Very Slow.

A new crop of Egyptian onions is now on the market and selling higher than usual at this season of the year. Old onions are out of the market and Spanish will not be quoted any more this season. Bermudas and green onions are reduced. Old potatoes are quoted 5 cents lower a bushel on account of influence of the new stock. All new potatoes are lower. Old cabbage is out of the market and the supply of white lettuce has been exhausted. Beans showed easier yesterday and so did apples. Fancy apples are not selling much better than $3 a barrel. Arrivals of strawberries were lighter yesterday and prices were about steady.

Grocery business is reported good, with no change in prices. Beans, canned goods, and dried fruits are moving better than last week. Business is picking up in the rural districts on account of gradual improvement of country roads. Coffee continues steady. Poultry is rather weak. Neither live nor dressed are in very good demand. Quotations are reduced on live chickens. Dressed suckling pigs are out of market and squabs are reduced 25 cents a dozen. Frogs are selling better and prices are slightly advanced. Select eggs are selling at 18½ cents and better. The market is steady, but the supply is less limited than last week. Egg arrivals are likely to be heavier after this week.

Timothy hay is still firm, but comparatively little is going on in either clover or mixed grades. Oats is advanced a half cent in sympathy with the Chicago conditions. Millfeed is higher again and both wheat and oats straw are quoted 50 cents higher. Receipts were light yesterday.

HORSE MARKET.

More buyers than usual were at the local horse sale mule exchange yesterday afternoon. The demand was pretty well concentrated on work stock. The sales exceeded the 200 mark for the first time in several weeks. Prices had the ordinary range; good work horses brought from $170 to $200 a head. The activity is due to the fact that farmers are now in need of work stock, they having sold heavily before the winter season.

WHEAT CLOSED HIGHER IN CHICAGO MARKET

Corn Was Unchanged, While Oats and Provisions Showed a Decline.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, May 3.—Almost ideal weather throughout the greater part of the country caused heavy liquidation of long wheat at the opening. In consequence of the heavy selling pressure initial sales were made at 3c consideratle decline, July being off ¼@c at 83¾@84¼c. There were other factors that entered into the situation in addition to the weather reports. Reports from the more important influences were reports from the northwest stating that seeding operations were progressing rapidly. Weakness of the grain markets at Minneapolis and Duluth seemed to substantiate the depression here. A rumor that the Missouri crop report, to be issued tomorrow, would show an improvement in condition of growing wheat, increased the desire to sell. For the first hour the market ruled extremely weak, losses of nearly a cent being made in all deliveries. The low point on July was reached at 83¾c. The selling craze, however, was to too unanimous and as a result the market became oversold. Buying on a large scale by a prominent commission house was supposed to be for the accounts of a leading trader. Active general demand resulting caused a complete wiping out of the preceding decline in prices. During the latter part of the session the buying continued liberal, and the market held strong. After selling at 84¾c, July closed at 84¼@c. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 75,000 bushels. Primary receipts were 218,100 bushels, compared with 854,100 bushels a year ago. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 168 cars, against 102 cars last week and and 188 cars a year ago.

Influenced by favorable weather and a decline in wheat the corn market showed considerable weakness during the first part of the session. There was quite a quantity of corn for sale and apparently not much wanted. Some of the selling was due to a rumor that the Missouri crop report would be bearish. The change to a bullish sentiment in the wheat market was followed by a similar reversal in the corn pit. Shorts became active buyers, and the demand continued good throughout the remainder of the session. Practically all of the early loss was regained, the final trading firm at about yesterday's final figures.

World's Grain Supply.

NEW YORK, May 3.—Special cable and telegraphic communications received by Bradstreets show the following changes in available supplies, as compared with last accounts: Wheat—United States and Canada, East Rockies, decreased 928,000 bushels; afloat for and in Europe, increased 2,000,000 bushels; totals uply increased 1,072,000 bushels. Corn—United States and Canada, East Rockies, decreased 2,387,000 bushels. Oats — United States and Canada, East Rockies, decreased 857,000 bushels. The stock held in Manitoba this week increased 517,000 bushels, and those held in the Chicago private elevators decreased 93,000 bushels, while the northwest interior elevators report a decrease of 500,000 bushels.

Interstate Commerce Commission Pleads Again for Block Signals

The interstate commerce commission in its report of railroad accidents for the fourth quarter of 1903 makes another strong plea for the use of the block signal system. After giving the details of the casualties, whereby 1,166 persons were killed and 12,520 injured during the quarter, the commission says:

"It should not be necessary to call attention to the fact that the casualties and losses set forth have an important bearing in connection with the bills introduced to extend the use of the block system. The recent Baltimore & Ohio accident, wherein 65 met death, has indeed no place in the discussion of the block system, but derailments and collisions occurred under circumstances which have been repeated in hundreds of accidents, and these circumstances are the result of defects for which the block system is universally looked upon as the remedy."

Traffic Business Improving.

That conditions are improving in traffic, both freight and passenger, is readily admitted. While the improvement is the most marked in passenger business, each week shows better conditions in movements of freights, and while not so heavy as the corresponding period of last year, the character of freight moving and the manner rates are adhered to produce gratifying results. A large percentage of business is full paying good rates and move well in the earnings. It is only in low class freights that a decrease in tonnage is shown and there is some improvement in this class in the last few days.

To Build Elevated Line.

Work on the proposed elevated lines of the Pennsylvania and Wabash along Duquesne Way will be started within the next six weeks. It is expected that by the middle of July both the Pennsylvania and Wabash will have material delivered and actual construction is expected to commence about that date. President J. W. Patterson of the Pittsburgh, Carnegie & Western said yesterday that within two days the plans for the Wabash wharf line will be finished and forwarded to A. P. Bolier, consulting engineer of the Wabash system. Upon his approval of the plans the contract will be let for material.

To Settle G. A. R. Rates.

The rate men of this territory will meet on May 10 at Chicago to line up the rates for the G. A. R. encampment at Boston. Out of this meeting is expected to come a rather interesting contingement. The differential roads are disposed to demand their full measure of differential. The rate men are having to contend with a situation in the eastern territory which exacts that the rates to Boston shall not be less from any one point in this territory than a rate of one fare for the round trip from the western terminus of the Trunk Line association.

Annual Meeting of Chartiers Valley.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Chartiers Valley railroad, a branch of the Panhandle, was held yesterday in the Union station building. Edward R. Taylor, fourth vice president of the Pennsylvania lines, was re-elected president, and the following board of directors was re-elected: John P. Green and Samuel Rea, Philadelphia; James McCrea, Joseph Wood, J. J. Turner and J. Frank Murray, Pittsburgh.

Railroad Notes.

George H. Thompson, city passenger agent of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, is spending a week at Cambridge Springs.

Cleveland's commercial interests have united in agitating the building of a new Union passenger station at that city.

The Pittsburgh Construction Company has been given the contract for paving the team delivery tracks in the Try street yards of the B. & O.

PRINCIPAL PLANK IS THE TARIFF

Republican Leaders at Washington Are Framing the National Platform.

IT WILL DEAL WITH TRUSTS

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, May 3.—The platform to be adopted by the Republican national convention has been among the topics discussed at the conferences which have taken place recently at the White House, in committee rooms at the capitol and at different residences, where a number of Republicans have been assembled. Senator Lodge, who is slated for chairman of the committee on resolutions at the convention, has prepared preliminary sketches of various topics that he thinks should be treated, and has submitted them to the senators. It is expected that before the convention meets a complete platform will be prepared which will have the approval of the president.

The principal feature of the platform will be the tariff plank, which will declare in the strongest terms the adherence of the Republican party to the principles of protection, but will not bind the party not to revise the tariff. It will say that the party is not committed to any schedule, but that changes should be made only when changed conditions of business or the treasury render it necessary or advisable. Persons present at the recent conferences say it already has been agreed that the tariff should be revised.

There is at present a determination to make the platform as brief as possible, consequently the indorsement of the administration and the acts of the party will be put in compact form. This indorsement will be a general approval of the course of the president and of the actions of the Republicans in congress.

The plank concerning trusts in effect will declare that the laws for the regulation of monopolies and the restraint of conspiracy against commerce were enacted by the Republicans and that the enforcement of such laws have been only by a Republican administration. It also will say that it is not the policy of intention of the Republican party to assail legitimate industry and business or to infringe on the rights of persons or property.

If anything is said about reciprocity it will be so worded as to mean that reciprocity shall be confined to such articles as are not in competition with the products of the United States. Mention of the financial question will consist of an allusion to the maintenance of the gold standard by the Republican party and a promise to continue the finances of the country upon a sound basis. Disfranchisement of the negroes in southern states will be denounced as an encroachment on rights guaranteed by the Constitution.

The demand for restoration of the merchant marine of the country will be renewed, but it is not the intention to indorse any specific plan.

Murderer of Women Electrocuted.

PLATTSBURG, N. Y., May 3.—Allan Mooney, who shot and killed two women at Saranac Lake, N. Y., November 4, 1902, was electrocuted at Clinton prison, Dannemora, today.

POLICEMEN WANT TO BE PUGILISTS; NOT SOLDIERS

"The right-about-face part of this drilling business is about the only thing that is ever going to help us cops, and I guess we would be fired if we practiced it too much. Why don't they teach us how to fight rough-and-tumble? I don't want to be a soldier," declared a blue-coated patrolman at Central police station yesterday afternoon, after he had returned from the weekly drill on the bluff.

"They take us out and make us march around for two hours, teaching us all about right dress, left oblique, mark time and the other tactics, but they never show us how to swing with the right, block, counter or jab. This drest parade business isn't going to help us much when we get sent into the First or Sixth ward on election day, or when a few 'roughouse Mikes' get active along the line."

This declaration, delivered with great fervor, was received with approbation by a score of other officers who were in the stationhouse at the time. All over the city the policemen are complaining against the drill as a thing that will not improve the efficiency of the force. In its stead the men want to be given a course of physical culture which will be of daily assistance to them.

A few years ago the city expended over $5,000 in fitting up gymnasiums in the different station houses. There is not a better or more thoroughly equipped gymnasium in the city than the one installed at considerable cost over No. 1 patrol stable in Cherry alley. In it are rowing machines, chest weights, punching bags, wrestling mat and all kinds of aerial apparatus.

An instructor was employed to take charge of the men, and they entered into the scheme with great spirit. It is a matter of record that one policeman whose avoirdupois had been a continual handicap, reduced his girth nine inches, much to his satisfaction and comfort.

The frequent changes of administration kept the policemen busy holding their jobs, and the gymnasiums fell into disuse, especially the one in Cherry alley, where the apparatus is now covered with several inches of dust. The men desire that the place be cleaned up and an instructor hired, so that they can put themselves into good physical condition.

Aside from the many knock-down-and-drag-out fighters on the force there are several clever boxers in the police and detective bureaus, including John Savanaugh, Charles Aymer, David Lennix and Frank Boyle. It has been suggested that these men be detailed to teach their brother officers.

A downtown patrolman stated yesterday that a communication would soon be sent to Acting Superintendent Alexander Wallace requesting the abandonment of the drill and the establishing of gymnasium classes.

The Smoker Is the Gainer—

THIS is the fact that stands out prominently in the enterprise of the United Cigar Stores. Our purpose from the outset has been to improve the conditions of the retail cigar business—to cut out the multiplicity of "in-between" profits and expenses that have kept down the quality and kept up the prices of cigars under the old methods. In short we set out to give the smoker the true value that his money should buy.

We think that we have done pretty well; we hope to do better still, and we will. How well we have succeeded so far is manifested by several things. One thing is this great successful business you see everywhere, and another is the kind of cigars you find in these stores—good deal better cigars for your money than ever before. One of the best things we have been able to do is to sell the 6 for 25 cts. $1. for Box of 25.

This cigar steadily increases in public favor. Nothing as good has ever been offered at the price. It can't be duplicated elsewhere. A mild, free-burning cigar, made of natural tobaccos and rolled by hand. It's a smoke not often equaled in cigars retailing as high as three-for a quarter.
